Weekly Puget Sound Dispatch.

SATURDAY. .... DEC. 9, 1876.

THE STORY

OF ELIZA PINKSTON.

For the past three days, a story of a woman named Eliza Pinkston, has come us hashed and rehashed in the Asso-ated Press dispatches of the Oregonian. then this poor deluded woman first ciated Pre told her story before the Louisiana Re-turning Board, it rightly caused the in-dignation of the northern visitors who were witnessing the count. Gov. Paldignation of the northern visitors who were witnessing the count. Gov. Palmer, (Dem.) jumped from his seat and said in wrath, "If this story be false those that prepared it for this poor woman should be hanged, but as I firmly believe it is true, the wretches who can perpetrate such atrocities should be executed without mercy. I will spend ten thousand dollars to ferret cout this case. It looks true: this poor out this case. It looks true; this poor woman has certainly been cruelly wronged. The question is broader now than President making; it is one of hu-manity. If she has told the truth, Sheridan should come back at once and hold with a grip of iro e pe-can see such infamy without strance even in their public prints. The story of the woman was The story of the woman was this: That at night some white men visited her home, killed her husband, tore her her home, killed her husband, tore her baby from her arms and cut its throat, and after stabbing and shooting her, ten of the white men proceeded to ravish her. The latter part of her story was so improbable that the Democrats, notwithstanding her seemingly horrible condition, proceeded to investigate the case. They found that immediately after the affair she claimed that the desolators of her home were colored men, and upon cross-questioning her, she admitted that fact. Also that she does not know the color of the men who committed the deed. No doubt, as this woman has been kept under surveil-lance since her arrival in New Orleans.

by the Republicans, that finding the woman in the condition she was they have attempted to adroitly turn the affair to their own benefit. Or, this may be another Francis Thompson af-fair. Thompson, it will be remembered, testified as a woman, that she had been during the political canvass of '74, and to various other shocking occurrences, bethe Congressional Southern outrages. This Thompson, as grimly as it may appear, turned out to be a man, but was not found out for nearly two years after, when he was convicted of felony, and at the police station his sex was discovered. We advise the Northern visitors to investi-gate by close inspection the extent of Mrs. Pinkston's wounds, before they take much stock in her story, and let no gation, it should be proven that this act was done or instigated by Louisiana Democrats, we have no words to express our loathing and detestation of the foul deed. Hanging would be too good for the perpetrators of the act. But this story must be carefully weighed before the people North will place any reliance or faith in it. This is probably but an incident in the farce that is now being played at the South, by the Republicans of that section.

times in

South to This T

one thorough investored that this

Investigating

Thompson.

night,

unearth

sixteen

sent outrages.

ravished

Committee

Southern

acting delude them.

If, however, upon

woman first

e people who was this :

AND BULL"-