ON THE SCENE NITE & FANTASY FASHION FETISH NITE at the QUEEN MARY SHOW LOUNGE

A party is a wonderful place to meet special friends, old and new. It also can be very much like an emotional and personal mine field, planted with anti-personal bombs and devices. Saturday night and I am all "dolloed up," and out the door to a private party put on by Jim Thompson from "Versatile Fashions." A birthday bash for everyone's good friend, Sir James. But before I hit the 22 Garden Grove Freeway, I stop off at "Birds" down the street to see Brad the bartender, and give him a copy of the new TV Epic. The one in which I mentioned how much I appreciated him opening the door with a smile for me. The club is located on the corner of Broadway and Hermosa Avenue in Long Beach. I am fast becoming the local in-resident queen in the club. I enjoy the place, and they have a piano with a number of singers coming in to entertain all. Usually I drop by for about ten to fifteen minutes, and then I am out the door to my place or a party. At this point, I plan to spend an evening there and really establish myself. Doing this, to set the stage for an evening, when I will invite a few very special friends to meet me there. Brad does not know it yet, but Ms. Lacie and her friends, "en-femme," are going to be visiting.

O.K., back to the party, and it was a fun one with SRO (standing room only), and plenty of slaves being showered with attention. Sometimes the sound of the whips and paddles working, is like a listening to a symphony in concert hall. This evening I did something that I usually do not, and that is to leave my "Chanel" lip gloss compact at home. I had put on the blood red foundation/base, which is nice but has no shine. When I hit the party, I see lined it for Santa Ana Sharon and Miss Sheena. We hit an empty bedroom and shared the newest gossip, where was so and so. Then I remembered that I had no lip gloss on, and asked Miss Sheena if I could use hers as she had it out and was doing a touch up. Have to say, that we are good friends and Sheena attends most of my events, but we do not go to dinner, etc. When she squinted her eyes a little bit, I could feel and see her mind spinning on this request. She looked at me dead eye; I like that, and said, "You know, I'd rather not because I'm the only one wearing this color here." Right away I told her that I understood and respected her position. Also realized, that I should get out my copy of "Etiquette," by Emily Post and find the page that tells me in detail the social "faux-pou" I made. Miss Sheena was not upset that I asked, and we went on with our conversation with out missing a beat.

Yours truly logged the information and have been processing it and working on it. Not long after that, Jim summoned us as it was time for Sir James to open his gifts and blow out the candles on the cake. Well, the whole "Versatile" gang was there, along with most of the

with Marlayna Lacie

I overheard someone say that there was a problem with the fellow wearing a blue tank top shirt.

Earlier in the evening, I noticed that he was doing what I refer to as roaming. Like a stud bull, looking for the sweet scent of a willing partner. Yours truly made sure to avoid the look in his eyes, as it conveyed the mating call. Eye contact with him, would have been a signal to him that I was receptive to his interest. Little did he know that the newest lady in my life was at the party, and was just around the corner. But she had to leave early that evening, as she had a client(slave) flying in from Chicago for a late night session.

Twenty minutes before the party breaks up, I am in the kitchen getting myself a glass of gingerale. Next thing I know, I look up and there is Mr. Tank Top looking at me like a hungry dog who finds a fat and tasty three legged cat. Instantly I realize that I am trapped, and everyone else is in the dungeon or doing something. Cornered, as I have a long buffet table on my right, the sink area behind me, and the freezer to my left. Keeping calm, I look for an escape and realize he is moving at me. Inside my mind there is a siren going off, like the ones they used to use when we had an emergency drill for a nuclear bomb attack. But I am not seven years old, and there is no school desk to dive under. His voice is slurred, but his purpose desire and intent are plain to see, and this bitch don't even have a New York minute to call a consultant. As he moves at me, I do my kitty cat and turn sideways sliding by his side to avoid his grasp. Yes, I say to myself, as I slide past him, but he spins too and wraps his arms around me like the circle round the sun. He pulls me back and thrusts his crotch and pelvis into my buttocks. Ah, you like that word and so do I, and this wordy kitty is in trouble. NOT! Not really, because I can deal with the situation, and I know this instinctively. Yours truly was in a house with plenty of friends within calling distance. Thing is, I thought about it and in a split second rejected that option. If I scream then Jim, Jerry, Captain Kurt, and all the men at the party will come running. Surer than hell is hot, they will throw him out and possibly this situation could escalate to a brawl with far reaching consequences for all. I was not being grabbed in my empty garage at 2 a.m., or in the parking lot of some club anywhere in Anytown USA.

So, after he locked on to me and was preparing to dry hump me, I waited two beats and it was a perfect two. I counted one to calm myself down, and got ready to deliver the line. I thought about the content structure and the tone and modulation. I then put together my body language to convey the whole package. He must have felt like he was holding a corpse in full stage rigor mortis. Or maybe a two by four, or I'm gonna work it ladies; a dead frozen catfish, cause that is what I knew it would take to get him off me. My line was, "You had best let go of me right now!" Immediately, his grip relaxed. Remember the time you picked up that pretty kitty, and then it decided that it was unhappy. It let you know right away, kitty did not like the attention. Like that kitty, I was a blur of flying fur when I felt his arm muscles relax. Out into the living room and sweet freedom, and I was happy that I got away from him and that I did not have to put a damper on a fun night.

along with most of the notorious mistresses in the scene. I love to watch, there was a pretty TS Mistress, who took these two other TV slaves and did them up like ponies. Then she secured them to each other with some very fancy and creative rope/knot work. They had bits in their mouths and tails made from real pony tails attached to their butts. This kinky little trip started in England, they have little wagons and carts like the Romans had. Along with, exquisitely detailed outfits and costumes for their pony boy or pony girl. Sometimes, they get two slaves to pony up and the mistresses or masters will set up a start and finish line, and will have a race. Whipping the ponies to encourage them get to the finish line faster. Maybe it is savage amusement, but I and many at the party enjoyed watching this little mistress and pony show. Towards the end of the night,

I love my friends from "Versatile," and I try to keep in mind that with an invitation comes an understanding that is most often unwritten. One that says that, yes, you are invited, but along with bringing your own booze and "personal toys," you respect the people attending and the house, apartment, or place where the affair is being held.

This afternoon, I hit the local post office and mailed a package to a man I admire very much. Years ago, I first heard about him when "Sixty Minutes" did a feature on a young black man who moved in with a white family in the Midwest. A fledgling basketball player who showed promise, and something that I can relate to called, desire. He was called a lot of names as he grew up, but the nickname I like best is "The Worm." Yes, I am an "NBA" fan, and the man I am writing about is the one and only, Dennis Rodman. I get to write about sports, and the Chicago Bulls in my column. No, I am not a frustrated sports writer, and why write about a guy who is a jock? Well, you know as well as I do, that Dennis Rodman is fast becoming the most talked about gender bender in the world. Thing is, that he has been doing it for some time, and I really believe that his coming out "en-media" is more than just a gimmick to sell his book, which I like very much. I suggest you put "AS BAD AS I WANNA BE" on your Christmas gift list. In his book, he tells us that he grew up with lots of women in his life and did not have a strong male role model to follow. Yes, he had a relationship with Madonna and all that, but more important is that this man is so honest it makes people look up.

Most likely, over the years, there has been a number of men who have played pro basketball and have been cross-dresses or had interests in women's attire for a fetish reason. I have not heard of any going on talk shows, or having a wedding celebration "en-femme," have you? Yours truly sent a copy of TV Epic to Mr. Rodman, along with a few gifts. Publications I thought he might enjoy. You see, I want to get his attention and hopefully he will contact me as I requested he do. Want to meet the man who was part of the world champion Detroit Pistons, who then was traded to the Chicago Bulls to bring em back those rings and the championship. I watched the play-offs and it was a thrill to see Dennis Rodman be the difference. In every game he made plays and scored points that made every victory for that team possible. O.K., I am off into it, but check it out. This man does not wait till after the season to release his book and talk about his interest in women's clothes. Hell NO! Just as the play-offs are starting he announces that he loves to get all "dolled up," and has been doing it for years. So, I will tell you that I reminded Dennis Rodman that at one time, he was on a mission to make it in the "NBA." We all know he did that and more, and I think that is great! I also told him, that as I writer, I am on a mission to meet him in person for an interview, and yes, some of that "camera time." Since I am mailing Dennis a copy of November's TV Epic, I want to say, "TO DENNIS RODMAN, I am on a mission honey, so please listen to my request to have a chat with you. It will be a lot of fun for both of us, and I can turn you on to some great places to shop and party in Tinslow." I always try to set goals for myself, and to meet a superstar like Dennis would be a treat. I really would like to talk to him about his cross-dressing and related interests.

Over the years, one would think that I would be bored with my Saturday night events. When I was young, I had the opportunity to live in the country. One learns, that in many places in the world, life goes at a slower pace than it does in other places. I have lived in big cities, and the frantic personal interaction seems like anti warfare compared to country life. Patience can sometimes not be bitter, and the honey, well, I collect and enjoy honey from around the world; but to move the metaphor back to me and the sweetness of success. Yours truly now is enjoying the rewards of my years of work trying to support you and the community. Last night I was chatting to Miss Sheena, and my assistant Marla came over and tapped me on the shoulder, telling me that there were two ladies over by the buffet waiting to meet me. They were Victoria, who was from Vancouver and lovely Michelle, who was from Seattle. They were on me like white on rice, and I was thrilled to hear how special attending the party was for them. There were no places or parties like this one where they came from. Both did not have the opportunity to get out that often, and then Michelle hit me with a zinger, telling me that she has been reading and enjoying my column and writing for years. Adding that she had planned this trip to my party for two years. I am still overwhelmed by all of this because when it rains it pours. She hit on me in the "Show Lounge" ladies room with a bevy of complimentary words. She is a cutie, and look for her photo in one of the photo spreads. Debbie was her name, and I have to start writing down names of ladies I meet.

There were two others that also were new to the scene that wanted to chat with me and thank me for my efforts in the gender community. So, I have to find a way to process all this and feel good about it. Also I have trouble dealing with all this attention at times because as nice as it is, I can get distracted by it. So I do this, I say to myself, YOU ARE BEING THANKED and most of all RESPECTED."

Every one of you who has been motivated by me is in essence a flower in my fields. There is no dedication firmer and truer, than the farmer who tills the soil and plants the seed. My thrill is that my blooming lovelies are the all "dolled up/en-femme" variety. Recall the fellow, who told me he read my column for a year and a half. Then one evening he said to himself, "THIS IS ME!" He told me, that when he is ready he plans to visit Jim Bridges for a make-over. By the way, he was in the club in "DRAB," as many men do come to check out the place that way.

Want to mention, that my plan is to find and feature a new theme for every, "On The Scene Nite" party. Putting up a number of colorful posters, cut-outs, and fun props. Such as the fans and masks I have been using. The "Fantasy Fashion "Fetish" Nite" affairs, will feature the GREEK COMEDY/TRAGEDY masks, along with a special affair such as last month's "Hooked On Drag" affair.

Years ago, myself and my former partner were partying and would meet often. There were not a lot of parties or events for the community in those evenings. Being invited to "Knots Berry Farm" or "Disneyland," were what they refer to as "pipe dreams." I knew my idea for a monthly party was a good one, and time has shown it to be a bigger success than I ever dreamed it would be. The reason for the success is you and your continuing support for the event and this publication.

Years ago, I first heard a lady refer to Halloween as the start of the "Drag Season." It did not click with me right away, but I see the pretzel logic in the statement. For me, it is the cool weather and the new fall fashions that seem to excite me. For many, the hot summer nights do not translate into the best "doll time." This year we seem to have more humidity in the air, and that makes latex and leather more like swim wear, but there are plenty of parties and affairs to attend and who wants to stay home!

I have to ask, "HAVE YOU COME OUT YET?" If not, I suppose you are saying to yourself, "I will make it a New Years resolution to make an appointment for a make-over with so and so." Just like you did last year, and the year before. And on top of that, you found a way to avoid putting on the wig and heels for Halloween. Most likely mad at yourself, but still wanting to find out what getting "all dolled up" is all about. Here is what the situation is in a nutshell. Yes, Marlayna's famous bottom line in a sentence, "YOU ARE NOT READY AND THAT IS FINE." But the more you put it off, and wish for it, the more it will slip away in time. If you want it, it is there, go and get it, but your time on the planet won't last. If you want to get dolled up, don't think too long about it. Amazing how the time and years pass. Yes, it is not an easy decision but once you make it you care in for the experience of your life. There is nothing like getting in touch and exploring/enjoying the feminine side of your personality. Once you give yourself permission to be the person you are everything else will fall into place with style and grace. It was true for me and many men that I know, I would not write it if I did not believe every word. What is important is that you get in touch with your wants, needs, and feelings. Then find the proper avenues to channel and explore them. To grow with it, as the experience is the fiercest growth curve one can find. Everyday and evening a new scene, scenario and place to meet and enjoy friends. Yes, friends old and new and in between, and these are some of the wonderful things that you will find. Also, there is the community to support you through it all.

Many times people have commented about the fact that I live in Long Beach and travel to the San Fernando Valley for my parties at the "Queen Mary Show Lounge." Over the last ten years I know the trail well, and it could tell of years of joy and pain. Joyous streets and boulevards, filled with love and wonderful friends. Cul-de-sacs and dead-end roads that are better left forgotten, with the tears upon them like rain filling the ever flowing LA river. To my surprise, I have found that the time in-between, in many ways, can be the best. The saying that, "Sometime it's not the destination that is important, as is the journey." This down time for me, as I call it, is rewarding and inspirational in many ways.

Every party night or evening out for me is a wonderful time, and while I change gears and listen to Patsy Cline or TUPAK. My mind flows, and I think about you and the many friends I have in the community. How important you all are to me. As many of you know, I have a thing or fixation about traveling up the Hollywood 101 Freeway. Traveling through what rock/poet Jim Morrison called, "The City of Lights." This along with that big white infamous HOLLYWOOD sign to greet me. No, at this point the ride is part of the territory, and most often I think about the possibility that you might be there. If not, then I focus on the fact that me and Miss Marla, need to get a lot of quality camera time. Should you visit the club on the way over, think about me for a minute. My focus and goal has been to help, guide, and support you and the many special friends we have in our community. Have to say that if I did not feel and know in my heart that we are special, and the Community is real and there for us, I could not work and dedicate myself to this career.

Always a pleasure for me to announce the date(s) for a fun event that includes the gender community. This one is a special one for me, because I was one if not the first lady to walk down MAIN STREET U.S.A. Yes, the first year "Oydessy Adventures" held an affair called, "A Private Party at Disneyland." Yours truly invited all to attend in this column, and it is a special memory. There is nothing like getting in that little car and riding through my favorite ride which is "It's a Small, Small World." If you are saying to yourself, How much fun can Disneyland be for me and the cross-dressing community? A whole Mickey Mouse and Minnie too bunch! If you are skeptical then circle Friday, November 15th and contact "Oydessy" at (818) 893-2777. Head on down to the world's most famous amusement park and bring that camera.

This year the party is on a night that I can attend, and I am personally calling many ladies in the local community to inform them about the good news. Years ago, the gates to these parks and many others were closed, and that is sad. But things have changed, and I been a part of and witness to many important ones. We as individuals go to group meetings and read literature from groups like "TRI-ESS," "International Foundation Of Gender Education," and "Powder Puffs." In them, are articles about society and the positives we can do for ourselves as a group in this media mad society we live in. One important thing is for us to "come out" in style and taste with all the positive PR for hair spray we can muster up. My feeling is, that some day there will be a board of directors meeting for "Disneyland" or "Knots Berry Farm." A discussion will be held, and the topic will be allowing the gender community access on a regular basis. Not just once a year, on a special night. But this is, and may be, the proverbial seed in the field. You and I are the sun and water, and if we do good and continue to show ourselves as deserving of respect, only then will we get it and that OPEN DOOR policy we should have.

Looking over this month's calendar, I see that on the first Saturday of the month yours truly will be starting my little get together called, "Marlayna Lacie Presents, Late Nite At Trilogy," which has to be the most fabulous full-time drag eatery in Southern California. Located in West Los Angeles at 2214 Stoner (off Olympic) in West Los Angeles. The club features the sexiest "T's" in town serving food and drinks. Also, they get up and "work that ass" and perform for the crowd. The food is excellent, and there is a dance floor ladies. The music is great for being dangerous (on the dance floor). The plan is to arrive between 9:30 and 10 p.m. Enjoy a late dinner, or try a few of the superb appetizers. We have Salmon cakes with Greek Yogurt Salad (Tdazlkl) and Lemon. Duck Carnitas Tacos on corn tortillas chipotle chilies. Have to add, that along with those are the tasty Chicken Curry in Phylo Purse with Cilantro Chuddy and Bruschetta with rouillr, grilled zucchini, tomato, feta, roasted red pepper, and red basil. No, I will not list the entrees because they are so good I want it to be a treat for you to see for yourself. But the Trinidad Chicken with...O.K., I will stop and tell you for reservations or information and directions call (310) 477-2844.

Moving on to next week, I see that on the first Tuesday of the month I will be hitting the Hollywood 101 and off getting off at the Melrose Avenue exit heading to 7313 Melrose Avenue for a fun affair I call "Marlayna's "T" Party." Held at "Tommy Tang's Modern Thai Eatery," and the food is excellent. Every Tuesday night at "Tommy's" is drag night, and the cute Asian boys get all dolled up to serve dinner and drinks. Sandi Tang coordinates the affair, and always has a fun show or event lined up. Yours truly just focused on the first Tuesday of every month to invite our circle of the community. The phone number at "Tommy's" for details on all the activities is (213) 937-5733, reservations are a must.

My "On The Scene Nite" event is on the 9th, and the "Fetish Nite" affair is on the 23rd, do hope you can attend.

Do have a fun Thanksgiving, and I have to add that since you are now most likely looking for or buying Christmas gifts do look over the merchants and vendors in our community when you start that search again. I do, and you should too, as this is the way the gay community built itself up in the business world. Getting respect from their financial clout, and before I get off on the soap box, enjoy the bird and drive safe and sane.

I wish you love,
Marlayna

VOLUME 2 1,700 + Gifts

It was an uneventful evening, and I was doing my "camera time/hostess" trip in the "Back Bar." Tony is a cross-dresser who has been hanging out with Vicky, who is a charming lady. G-G as we call them, have been friends for some time. Surprises me when I hear them having words, and Vicky says to Tony, "I hope you understand, but I need my space." That was about six months ago, and they both have not spoken to each other since.

I envied Tony, because it seemed that he had a sexy lady to run around and party with. Who accepted him in drag and out of drag. I know this, cause Tony came over to ask me for advice about how to deal with this. Tony told me that those words were the "kiss of death" in his relationship with Vicky. I could relate, because I come from a generation and time when the term, "give me my space," was a cerebral statement. Sort of like saying, "I need the space of two desks to work on or my own path in the nature center tour trail." But I also was witness to the negative reading and interpretation that came as the statement withstood and fell to the test of time. It soon was used by young ladies in mini-skirts in pick-up bars to put down and insult men chasing that fourteen inch piece of spandex wrapped around a fisherman's daughter. Point is, the term and it's meaning changed to many, including yours truly. This at times can be the ultimate put down.

I recall the evening a lady said the same thing to me. Never did I expect her to tell me this, and my reaction after the initial shock and pain was intense. I recall I said to myself, as if I were speaking to her, "OH YOU WANT YOUR SPACE from me do you? Have you looked through a telescope lately and checked out how infinite space is? Do you know where Alpha Centuri is? I ask because that is about the emotional and physical distance in feelings, and space, that I am away from you. Did you realize that when you asked for your space, that it would be given to you as requested." I was so hurt, that to deal with the whole thing, I totally distanced and removed my world from that person's.

I have found that most men who cross-dress seek women who will love and accept them. Also have seen that these men, myself included, do not deal with any form of rejection very well. Maybe it is like Mike Culhane at "Spartacus" says, and that is, "It's just that you guys have that queen mentality." O.K., so now I will work on that one, deal with it as best as I can, and report back to you. I have to say this cause the Moon is in Scorpio and I can't help it. I have my space, and you have yours, and in-between I, and many others will deal with coming out.

My first night out "en-femme," was a memorable one, and it seemed that before I knew it, the bartender was yelling out that familiar, "Last call." Not long after, I realized that I was at the club on a slow night. No party nites, but then one never knew when there would be a full house and packed dance floor. About a month later, like a moth to a flame, I was back at the club for my second visit. Not as nervous as I had been on my first night, but still a little bit. All this was so very new, and I felt like I was so inadequate. Always asking people for advice and could they help me put on my blush when I got "dolled up." Which was usually at Tasha La Blush's house, and she would admonish me and say, "Someday your going to have to get your own wings BABY." A few years ago, she told me that I had become a squadron leader and I found that amusing. Back to my focus, and that is, that when you do go to a club or bar like the "Queen Mary Show Lounge," you will most likely meet men who will ask you for a variety of things. "Oh, I am straight!" you are saying to yourself, and do not feel comfortable with the idea of being hit on by men. Well, unless you keep to closeted environments like a "Powder Puff" meeting or a convention like "California Dreaming," most likely you will have to deal with this, it goes with the territory.

Back to my second night in the notorious "Back Bar" and my scene Mommy Mistress, Jennifer Antone was there. She had offered to buy me a cocktail to celebrate the occasion. As I lowered my glass, Jennifer leaned over and whispered something in my ear. The juke box was blasting, and the room was packed, so I asked her to repeat what she had said. Jennifer repeated her line, and it was, "That man across the room is looking up your dress!" My first thought was, why the hell should he bother to do such a trivial thing. Then I remembered that this was a normal pattern of behavior for men looking for sexual partners or a cheap shot. Jennifer followed this up, as I processed this information with a directive for me to cross my legs. Not long after, I had forgotten about the fellow looking up my dress and was alone as Jennifer was off to talk to a friend. The bar stool next to me was empty, and then the fellow who was looking at my crotch sits down next to me. He realizes that I am new to the scene, and the etiquette involved in refusing a horny man. Yes, he was on me like white on rice, and I was feeling like my reed canoe, in the middle of the lake, was water logged. Did not know what to do or how to tell this fellow that I was not interested in him. That I had a special lady that I was seeing. That he was making me very nervous and uncomfortable, and why was he trying to put his arms around me? Finally, I excused myself and got up, I told him I had to go to the ladies room.

When I returned, dear Jennifer was sitting in the seat and had this look on her face like that Cheshire cat. After I had sat down, she said to me, "That guy was being an asshole the way he was on you." Before I could reply she said, "He was, and I could have come over and pulled him off, but you are going to have to learn how to deal with men like him, I will not be here every night." So she threw me to the wolves, and when they got too close, I nipped their noses with my little puppy sharp teeth.

There is a way to walk that says, stay away. An attitude, and a look, or a conscious decision not to make eye contact with a man. Ladies, it is the eye contact and also accepting the offer from a gentleman to buy you a cocktail, that can be the start of something new. I found, that if you are not aware of this it can get you in situations where one may not want to be. Not realizing that making eye contact and smiling at men was encouraging them to hit on me. My feeling was, I was just being fun friendly. New to the club, and scene, and wanting to find new friends and enjoy myself.

One thing that seems to be a positive when you first start going out is drinking. It is not, as it can lead to drinking becoming a regular part of your social agenda. We all know that "demon rum" can ruin a night, and a career. Men have been using alcohol mixed with sweet talk, and anything else, to get a ladies attention and favors, shall we say. Goes with the territory, and when you are hit, you can say to yourself, whether you enjoy the attention or not, this is what Lacie was writing about in the November issue of TV Epic, in her series called, Dealing With Coming Out.

SO. CALL LONG LEGGED TV seeking friendship (and possibly more) with other TV/CD/F For couples interested in TV lifestyle. Love everything feminine and long, slow romantic evenings. Will dress to please. Interested? Write with photo, SASE, and phone number.

SCREEN AND

It amazed me when I recognized him from his profile, lit up from the moonlight, on the bay, with Alcatraz Island in the background. The place was the "VIP Lounge" at "Wigstock West 96." Alone, with no one near him for twenty feet in any direction, there was something magical about the scene. We have ten to fifteen thousand drag queens, wanna be's and watchers, in the same amusement pavilion. A frantic beehive of bodies and costumes, from here there to Planet Claire and in-between. Yet, this man is in his own space, looking out and seeing. Well, the man is a true visionary and very well known in New York. Performance artist, John Kelly, has brought us Joni Mitchell, who first performed at "Wigstock 94," and has been the supreme closing act ever since.

Years ago I heard about John, then he was a ballet and modern dance performer. One day, I was reading a New York weekly, and lo and behold, I read that he is riding around on a bicycle, dressed up, looking like chanteuse poet, Joni Mitchell; in her hippie days. I loved the idea and concept, since "COURT and SPARK" is by far the most favorite album/CD I have. It was a thrill to chat with John, and yes, I did invade his space. When I introduced myself, I reminded him that we had met briefly at the premiere of "Wigstock: The Movie" last year. Before he could respond, I told him that I did not expect him to recall our meeting. Following that, with me telling him how much I admired what he was doing. That I was following his career, and would continue to. Then I requested that he pose for a photo with me, and I am looking at it right now.

Looking through a new copy of one of those New York fashion and gossip rags, I find an article on John. Seems that he has been busy, and this past Labor Day, he opened up at the "Westbeth Theatre" for a three week engagement, of what John calls his, "Unauthorized Tribute to a Great North American Artist." The one and only, Joni Mitchell of course. "Paved Paradise," is the name of the show and the theatre is located at 151 Bank Street in New York City. I can not copy the article, but I will tell you that John Kelly is Joni Mitchell, and this is not some camp drag act. No, by far, this is theatre of the personality and personae, taken to a beautiful new area of the stage. That area has always been spotlighted when multi-talented drag performance diva, Joey Atlas, transforms, "channels" and changes his personae to blues singer Billie Holiday. Yours truly has seen Joey perform, and I recall that more than a few people assumed that when he first started his act, that he was lip synching to a tape. No way, as Joey is not the one that is singing because you hear Billie.

Earlier in the evening, I was having dinner and I was pondering the politics of this phenomena. What is about Billie Holiday, Joni Mitchell and yes, my beloved Marlene Dietrich, that captures someone's attention to the point that an almost personality osmosis takes place. This is not a situation where John or Joey feel they are the person. No, they present themselves as mediums of the energy and spirit that the object of their worship/desire presents to them. In many ways, the ultimate tribute is to give yourself over to another. At least while the klieg lights are on and the video cam is rolling with red light on.

Just talked to Joey, he is busy with his many gigs in the Big Apple, and I will sure to put him on the cover sometime again next year. I am sure we can come up with something fabulous and entertaining. Hell, that's what Joey specializes in, and you go JOEY! LOVE YA, BABY LACIE here, and stay in touch.

Moving on, there should be a slew of new low budget and independent "drag films" hitting us for those holiday time dead presidents. Recently, I checked out a European import from Germany, called, "Maybe...Maybe Not," which I rated as a seven high heel and one, with a very gay theme, featuring ladies "en-femme" called, "Stonewall." Named after the infamous gay riots in New York in the sixties. Which was started when the police beat up the "GIRLS," as the queens were referred to. Both films are entertaining, with plenty of drag humor and poignant moments. The best thing of all is that they present positive images of the gay and transgendered communities. Leaving the theatre after viewing, "Maybe...Maybe Not," I asked a couple of fellows leaving if they like the movie. One replied that it was a fun flick, and the other said this, "I liked it because it was fun, and didn't put anyone down." This is good news because a few years back, I questioned if Hollywood would maybe rewrite "The Tenant," done in the mid-sixties by Roman Polanski.

At this point, it looks like we shall be seeing more humor and possibly some gag/drag movies like, "Some Like It HOT." That is O.K. with me, and I enjoy throwing out seven to ten pares of heels to a new stage production or movie. Have to ad, that hopefully John Kelly will make plans to come and perform in Los Angeles. I also have decided to call a few friends in New York and try to contact John.

For me my coming out and history is unique because I am a public person. Something I never planned to be, or could I foresee that my writing would start the process of outing me. Show business has always been something that I was interested in, and I found this column very rewarding. An outlet for me to write about the many things that I enjoy and feel, you might also. This adventure that I am on, and yes, at this point it is a career, has given me the opportunity to meet many of the "rich and famous." Have to add, that from the start, I have never been start struck with any celebrity other than Marlene Dietrich.

You have to keep in mind, that we have the television, music, and motion picture industries at work here, all together. Then we have the communities of each, and they all intermingling, and for many of them meeting Marlayna Lacie with credentials, as an established writer, can be interesting. This time, I am not going to name drop until the end, but from the prestigious "Directors Guild" to the "Playboy Mansion. I have hobnobbed with celebrities. We have to now keep in mind, that I am one of the few men going out "en-femme" to these star packed parties. Also, I am putting myself in territory where I can be taken very seriously, or possibly the object of ridicule and verbal humiliation.

As a writer, I find, I must find the best way to approach these people and introduce myself. I am after that infamous "camera time" and the story. As I writer, if I tell a publisher that I will cover the event they know that most likely Ms. Lacie will deliver the goods. Celebrities seem to have it all, but they really do not if you think about it. They have no personal life, as the video cams of the world are upon them. Most people they know come to them as part of, or after, their success. You will find that most often they keep the friends they grew up with.

Celebrities are hounded by people asking for their time, and most of them want some "camera time." Yours truly was working as an extra for a feature film in the Spring, and had the opportunity to be human wallpaper in the film, and earn the title of "Screen Queen." This also gave me the opportunity to get some photos and a story about the experience. Approaching a celebrity for me is a treat, but also, I am aware that I am putting myself in a position where the person I am asking can diss me. "Diss" coming from the street slang, meaning disrespect. Maybe it is my smile, but I have never been dissed or insulted by a celebrity. A few times, I have had a person politely refuse me, but never have I been laughed at or been the object of a verbal assault. The celebrity I was stalking this time, was carrying a reputation that gave me pause. But when we hit the breakfast wagons, he was next to me. I smiled at him and he just looked at me and said, "What's up?"

Looking into his eyes, I said back to him, "You are, cause you got the best hand." As he was laughing, I asked him if he would pose for a photo or two with me. He told me that we could do that later on, and then he was off to start filming. Watching him work was a treat, charisma is a special gift that some people have. Maybe he honed it when he appeared on-stage in New York, at thirteen years old, in a stage production of, "A Raisin in the Sun." At this point, he was a major star and was known around the world. Later that day, I saw him taking a break and chatting with the other top name actor in the film. Walking over to them, I interrupted them to ask for some, yes, "camera time." They both could have told me they were busy, and I knew every one the set was watching to see if they would diss me, and send me packing with rejection for my trouble. But no, it was good timing and I thanked them both, it was a memorable moment for me.

I have that photo, framed and hanging on my wall, this evening I looked at it and wept. You see, when someone touches your life, even for a moment or two, you remember and we carry those emotions with the connections. You can say all you want about him, and his lifestyle, and for what it's worth, he was like most stars. Who can only find comfort and friends among the ones from childhood. Yes, I cried, and will again, because he was so nice to me and he was a charming man to many ladies. I write this to you and I cry a little. R.I.P. Tupac Shakur.

Tableau Vivant

TABLEAU VIVANT

By-Miss Tasha LaBlush

There's a place on my body that itches and tingles for a couple of days after it's been sucked...no, not there you dizzy queen! All you have to do is just ask Roy Nipple, he'll tell ya' Baby!

Last time out we stopped right in the middle of "Sexx, Playtex and a Red Headed Transvestite from outer Space." Our friends had just heard an emergency radio broadcast on W FAG radio...Zelda, Sheena and Redmond Sexx look at each other in disbelief! Sheena jumps off Redmond's back, "I'd better get my Uzi...just in case. She reaches under the bondage bench for her Uzi submachine gun and snaps in an ammo clip. "Sheena go lock the front door."

Sexx scrunches up his nose and sniffs the air, "Think I smell Poison perfume, Mistress."

Before Sheena can lock the door...it swings open wide to reveal a redheaded transvestite space alien!!!

Sheena runs to Zelda's side. Sexx jumps to his feet. Zelda points the Uzi at the alien TV. "Get back! I don't want to shoot but I will!"

The transvestite alien is Empress Dildoa from the planet Femina. She's wearing a bizarre red latex cape and black spike heel boots. Her eyes are covered with goggles. Strange antennae sprout from the top of her head; they wobble when she speaks. "Pathetic Earthlings. Do you actually think you can harm me? I'm Empress Dildoa from the pink planet Femina! I take whatever I want!" She steps boldly closer. She picks up one of the rubber girdles. "Hmmm...nice spermatex and pleasure cuffs." She points to Sheena. "A clit drone! You shall be my spermatex slave! I shall take you back to Femina with me!"

The Empress cruelly grabs Sheena by her arm. Sheena says, "I don't wanna go with you, I've got a yeast infection. Zelda, Help me!"

Zelda fires the Uzi on full automag. "Shove this Dildoa!" Bang, bang, bang, pow, pow...She fires the full clip at the space creepazoid. Zilch, the smoke clears and nothing has happened. Click...click...

"Ha, ha, ha...your impotent Earth weapons can't penetrate my Dalkon shield. You can't harm me!"

Dildoa pulls a phallic looking ray gun from between her legs. "I could vaporize you all with my climaxatron! But me thinks I shall play with you for a while."

She trains the ray gun on the cowering threesome. Bzzzz...bzzzz...the fat barrel of the gun glows red, crackles with heat. There's a sweet smell of Poison in the air. Zelda, Sheena and Sexx go into multiple orgasms then tumble to the floor.

Dildoa Picks up the spent Uzi. "Pitiful Earth toy (drops the gun, looks at her own). Give me a horny climaxatron from Femina anytime!" She changes her gun's setting and rubs the barrel between her shapely booted legs. Her goggles go foggy and her antennae begin to glow. "Zyborg, zyborg..." At last she returns the climaxatron to its crotch holder. She looks at some of the leather bondage toys scattered about.

"Hmmm, not bad." Something dark, black and fuzzy swiftly jumps from a cuff to her neck.

"I'll have to take some of these back to Feminaaaa... argh no...this can't be happening to meeee! Pink Feminaaa!"

Dildoa crashes to the floor behind the bondage bench, still clutching her throat. She writhes in her final death throes.

For several long moments all is quiet in the room. Sheena moans first. Groggily gets to her feet. Zelda and Sexx sit up. They all look like they've had to many gin and tonics.

Sheena, "Oh my aching head." She goes over to the stiff body of Dildoa. "Look, Zelda, Mr. Sexx, I think she's dead."

Sheena bends over the body. She removes something black and fuzzy from Dildoa's white neck. The petite sex slave is suddenly filled with joyous glee! "Foo-Foo, I found my little Foo-Foo. You saved us!!!"

(FADE TO BLACK)

Hope you had fun sweetie dahlinks. Next time I'll be coming to you from New York City where anything can happen!

Love, Sin and Gin,
Miss Tasha LaBlush

Christmas at the boutique.

Grand Dam of the gender community.

I know everyone loves a good picture, so I've chosen a selection of interesting photos from past conventions. I get so many pictures, it is almost impossible to share them all with you. I hope these photos help to show you the diversity of the gender community. You don't have to be under 25, or wear a size eight, to have fun or look good.

I hope you have enjoyed a walk down memory lane with me. Till next time, this is Jim Bridges saying, be happy and kick open that closet door!

A table of troublemakers!

Looks like they are off to a good start.

BAY AREA TV Very hot 22 yr. old has hunger for passionate sex. Looking for TV or men to have nice sex with. You must be 21-44, nice, good-looking & very clean. Also looking for bi-fems and nice couples as bi wife might get involved with select people. Novice but ready for fun.

The "Tiffany Club" is an organization in the New England area that hosts several transgendered events every year. At the end of January they host the first event which is normally held just outside Boston. This year's event was held at the Walborn "Holiday Inn." The event began on Wednesday afternoon, with registration and the vendor area open for browsing. At 2 p.m. they held three sessions: "Passing in Public," "New Person Orientation," and "Big Sister Orientation." The two orientation programs were repeated at 3 p.m. for all those who weren't able to make it to the earlier programs. They also had Jim Bridges available for make-overs and for the purchase of make-up and accessories.

Wednesday night all the girls went out together on their own and checked out some of the local restaurants.

Thursday morning the convention got into full swing, starting off at 9 a.m. with registration. Jim Bridges did make-overs and Nancy Roberts did fantasy shots all day long. At 9:30 to 10:30 a.m. Needra Sahr and Kate Reilly did a class on, "Comportment and Image." Merrill Shea did a session from 9:30 a.m. to 12 noon on, "To Use a More Feminine Voice." At 10:30 a.m. Jim Bridges had a session on, "Make-Up and Make-Over Techniques," and Ariadne Rane had a session on, "Therapy in the Transgendered Community."

At 12 noon they broke for lunch. Sessions began again at 1:30 p.m. There were more sessions scheduled, starting off with, "Donna Cognac; Image and Color Consultors Sessions" and "Ariadne Kane; Introductory Therapy Sessions," these were scheduled until 4 p.m.

Merril Shea held private voice consultations from 1 to 5 p.m. At 7 to 10 p.m. a pool party was held at the hotel's swimming pool (indoors) for all those attending the convention and the convention guests.

Friday was another big day starting at 9 a.m. Jim Bridges was doing make-overs and Nancy Roberts was doing fantasy shots all day. Sessions began at 10 a.m. with Linda Defruscio giving two sessions on, "Electrolysis and Skin Care." There was a session on "Non-Surgical Breast Enlargements" from 10 to 11 a.m. Donna Cognac did a session on "Image and Color," and did consultations from 11 a.m. to 2 p.m. At 11 a.m. Diane Ellaborn had a session on, "Transgendered Therapy" and Anthony Andrews did a session on "Hair Extensions and Wigs." At 12 noon we broke for lunch.

The afternoon sessions began at one 1:30 p.m. with, "Skin Care" by Nancy Beach. From 2 to 3 p.m. there were two sessions. Dr. Sheila Kirk on, "Hormones and the Transgendered Community," and Alison Laing did a session on "Speaking as a Woman." At 3 p.m. there were two more sessions, one was "Styles on Video" and the other was "Transgenderism as a Spiritual Path," presented by Jean Marie Stine.

At 5 p.m. we broke to get ready for the evening get-togethers. There were three cocktail parties planned. The first one was at the hotel from 6 to 7:30 p.m. for all registered attendees. Then there was an open house planned at the "Tiffany of New England" in Waltham, from 7:30 to 9 p.m. The "International Foundation Of Gender Education" held an open house to dedicate their in-house book store, and give all the participants a chance to meet and talk with the "International Foundation Of Gender Education's" Board of Directors, who were in town for the annual in-house board meeting. A lot of us went out to get something to eat and drink after the open house, and sat around socializing until after midnight, then we headed back to the hotel to get some sleep.

Saturday was another busy day, starting off with a fashion show and brunch until 12 noon. Jim Bridges was available for make-overs and accessories all day long. At 1:30 p.m. Nancy Roberts fantasy shots were available for the rest of the afternoon and in to the evening, so we were able to get shots in our evening wear.

At 2 to 4 p.m. there were three sessions scheduled, "Significant Others," "Transsexual Support," and "Female to Male Discussion." Then we broke to get ready for the banquet.

At 6 p.m. the bar in the banquet floor lobby opened, and people socialized until 7:15 p.m., then the banquet began. The food was excellent, and after dinner they presented awards to those who were in attendance at the convention, then they had dancing until later in the evening. A lot of the girls migrated to the hotel bar or went out on the town after the banquet was over.

Sunday morning a lot of the girls headed off early towards home, but there were a few who stayed for breakfast and sat around and talked.

Over all, I thought the event was a very excellent one. They had a good attendance that started off slow, but by Saturday, they had between a one hundred and twenty-five to a hundred and fifty people registered.

I was fortunate to be able to go to the first event because I was in town to attend the "International Foundation Of Gender Education's" Board of Directors meeting.

Getting out and going to events like this you have all kinds of strange experiences, and you hear a lot of stories about friends who have had things happen to them. But it is a good way to learn and express yourself, and getting out and enjoying yourself.

Please feel free to write and ask any questions, or if you need information write to me, and I will get back with you.

Miss Marla putting out some goodies.

Larry and Miss Tina are TV Epic fans.

Little Debbie is a working girl!

New PUSS CAT on the scene.

These ladies came in from Vancouver and Seattle to attend.

MEEEEEEOOOOWWWW!!!

Once again, those cool evening breezes saved the night as the kitty cats were prowling this evening. Thing was, that there were tomcats and sexy colorful tabbies everywhere. This evening, I had a celebrity attend as my special guest. The one and only, Crystal Crawford, and a few of her friends hit the club. We had a minute or two of that "camera time," and then to the buffet and show lounge.

Yours truly, sat for a few minutes with Crystal and friends, and watched the oh so talented, Dolly Levy, strut her stuff. Then, I traipsed on to the "Back Bar" to greet guests and hand out complimentary copies of TV Epic.

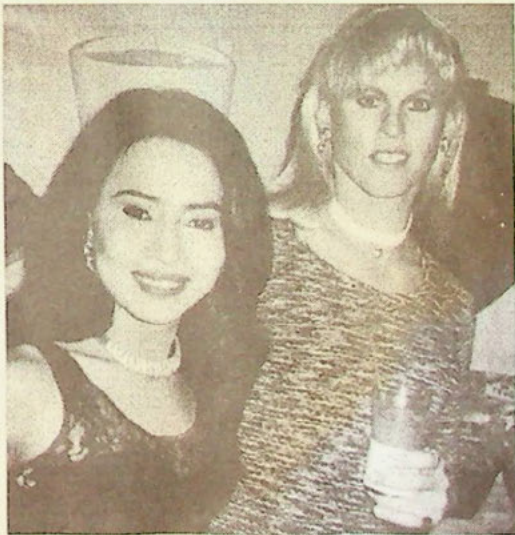

Thanks to Larry for helping Miss Marla and I setup the buffet. Also to little Debbie for working the door, and to bartender, Richard (Deanna), for announcing my events over the PA.

Special for me, was the ladies who were first timers. Some new to the scene and others visiting the club for the first time.

The events are for the gender community and all it's friends and PETS. Do hit the calendar and circle November the 23rd, and I will see you this month at the "Mecca of Cross-Dressing;" the one and only, "Queen Mary Show Lounge."

Mr. Richard, doing his thing!

TIRED OF LOSING PICTURES? WE HAVE A SOLUTION!

personal Stationery

We know how frustrating it can be to lose a picture by sending it to an irresponsible person or couple who neglect to return it. That's why Pathway Communications is now offering a special service for our readers which will safeguard your pictures from loss, and it's as easy as 1, 2, 3!

Here's how it works:

You mail us your picture(s) along with the attached order form, making sure to select the stationery and paper style you want. Remember: send high quality photos that are in focus and have good contrast and tone. The better your picture, the better your stationery.

2

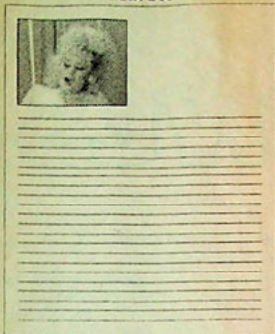

We scan your picture(s) into a computerized format and convert them to gray-scale pictures, just like those you see in this magazine. We then place the images onto stationery that you can write on and mail to others.

Then we mail back your original picture(s) and stationery, with a complete black and white reproduction of your picture(s) on each and every one, along with any requested text information (such as a greeting, P.O. Box and/or a phone number). That's all there is to it!

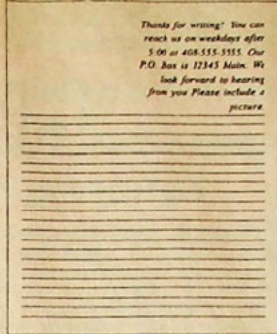

personal stationery comes in a variety of layout styles. Please select the design that best suits your needs, and enter the code in the order form below. Include any pre-written text on a separate sheet of paper. Paper Colors available: Ivory, Teal, Red, Lt. Blue, Yellow, Pink, Green, Parchment, Marble

Happy Thanksgiving to all my friends.

This month's party is on the 9th.

Melissa Foster was Ms. Lacie's special guest.

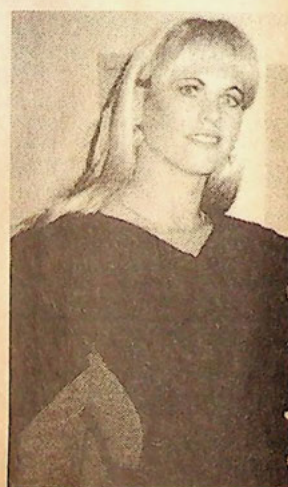

Marlayna Lacie
PRESENTS
SCENE
NITE"
(Second Saturday of every Month)

New lady on the scene.

Jim Bridges taking Miss Katie to the dance floor.

Lovely lady from Orange County.

All "dolloed up" and at the right place too.

"Yes ladies, this shot will be in TV Epic."

The lovely, Bryce, strutting her stuff.

PARTY NOTES

Before I left my place, I called Jim Bridges to see what the status quo was. He was all booked up. He said that tonight the "Back Bar" would be packed. He was right, and more than a few times it was sort of like being on an overcrowded boat. But Miss Marla and I were not deterred, and we put out a real tasty buffet, and those complimentary copies of TV Epic were prized items. These, along with the great door prizes donated by Mistress Antionette and her great staff at "Versatile." Time to say thanks to all the vendors from the community who have donated gifts and supported my events. This month a special thanks to Ann Murray at "Especially For Me" boutique, for her support. Also my assistant Miss Marla and the staff at the "Queen Mary Show Lounge." I want to thank you ladies and gents who have attended these parties. You are all a big reason why these events continue and are fun.

Girlfriends just want to have fun!

Pretty as a picture and new on the scene also.

"Yes, this is for TV Epic, so work it!"

Here to see and meet
Karen Dior.

"Micky's," located on Santa Monica (S & M) Boulevard, in the notorious section called, Boys Town, was the perfect location for Karen Dior's party. This one, a celebrity packed affair, as all were there to honor and dishonor the lady who has to be the worlds most famous and notorious adult film star.

Chi Chi LaRue was MC, and she forgot to look up the word "roast," turning the affair into a celebration ala DRESDEN with her flame throwing verbal tirades. Yes, you bunch of "C—S—" you asked for it, and Chi Chi delivered on a silver plate flambéed.

Yours truly, sat front and center at the event with the charming, Micky Skee, a columnist from "A.V.N" (Adult Video News) magazine. Along with a very charming fellow named, Johnny Ray, who is the number one gay porno star in the industry.

A fun affair, and a wonderful tribute to a sweet lady who has to be one of the most fabulous performers in the world.

"I'm here to see and meet Karen Dior."

Chi Chi LaRue, the verbal flame thrower.

Karen, thanks one and all.

Ms. Lacie enjoying the company of actor,
Johnny Ray.

"Yes Jazmin, all the men belong to you!!!"

"No, I'm not here for the damn did-din!"

The lovely,
MISS KAREN DIOR.

"HAAA, it's that "camera time," girl doing me again!"

HOW TO RESPOND TO PERSONAL ADS

Write a separate personal letter in answer to each ad you wish to contact. Try to follow the requests of each advertiser. If they request a SASE it means you should enclose a SELF ADDRESSED STAMPED ENVELOPE with your letter.

Write the complete code number of the advertiser in the address area of each envelope.

Write your own return address or code number in the upper left hand corner of the envelope.

Put the appropriate postage on all letters to be forwarded.

Place all letters to be forwarded in a larger envelope.
NO FORWARDING FEE IS REQUIRED.

Write your own return address in the upper left hand corner of the large envelope.

INSTRUCTIONS:

To reach one of our adholders by using The Connector, first pick an ad that says "Connector" followed by their four digit code (example: CONNECTOR 1234). This is their voice box number. You may call our (900) 740-0069 number for The Connector in order to reach this person immediately. You may then leave a message for them so they can return your call upon hearing your message. When placing the call, you will be asked to enter your birthdate and then will be given a few options. To answer a specific ad, press the number followed by the person's Connector number. After hearing their message to you, you may leave a message of your own. After that, it's up to you. You've made a Connection, now just have fun!

I'M LOOKING FOR Someone just like me: a nice normal guy: cultured, conservative, conventional, cautious, who secretly buys magazines like this and fantasizes about the fun others seem to be having. This ad the first step toward finding best friend with similar bi-curious/lingerie interests. Discretion, safety, cleanliness among our shared obsessions. Me, 35, good-looking, non-smoker/drinker. You, 28-45, also in good shape, business professional, well-educated, hoping for one-on-one long term friendship with trustworthy counterpart. Romantic mornings, lunches, bookstore browsing, and mutual affection — are you out there? Well-written letters will be responded to. West Los Angeles/San Fernando Valley.
