ON THE SCENE NITE & FANTASY FASHION FETISH NITE at the QUEEN MARY SHOW LOUNGE

This month I am pleased to have a photo spread with copy about the lusty ladies in New Orleans. Last year I hitched up with Miss Carla in the sweet Southern city and she showed me the town. I don't have any photos because I left my camera at home and not on purpose. So I asked Miss Carla to put together this Southern sampler. By the way, does your local club feature a spectacular drag or female impersonator revue? If you can put together about fifteen to twenty photos and some copy, I will look it over and possibly submit it for publication. Hit the copy shop and send me copies of all, and we will take it from there. You can be sure the "ladies in the show" will love you for it. I will also see that you get at least half a dozen complimentary copies of your photo spread/article.

Well, it has been a fun and rewarding for me to be able to find nice cover photos for this publication. I do try to work with what they call a creative mix. This month we swing one eighty again and we rock around the stiff hard beat of the gender bending, Jayne County. New York's newest "retro" dahlings was in town to do a show. Yours truly, was at the "Viper Room" to see the show and interview Jayne. Needless to say, it was a memorable experience. It's true what they say about Southern charm. Also true that the south still kicks ass in the personification of Miss County. With her band, "The Electric Chairs," she has been blasting down the highway doing show after show. Either that or flying to Europe or whoever knows where. Well, the big bird in the sky dropped her off for a short promo tour and once again TV Epic informs you about the affair. As I said, Jayne is the "Toast and Tea" of Neew Yaawk Dahlingsss! I hope you enjoy my exclusive interview with the legendary "queen of punk," Jayne County.

Wondering and churning the damned spot question, "Am I passing?" Well, whether you are or not, should you beat yourself with the question or dote on it. No, no, no, once again focus on doing a positive, and if you are not passing, do the best you can and I mean work at it girl and then go on with the show. Passing and what is it all about, can you tell me? For at least the first five years, I gave a lot of thought to it. Were people looking at me, and was I passing, crossed my mind until I decided that it was not the point and focus, at least for me. My philosophy on this subject came over a long period of time. Mostly I learned from watching other ladies about passing and how it can be dealt with, how it can affect you, and the bottom line should be a positive. Go out and find the most complimentary outfits and accessories, and be sure to get some sexy hi-heels. Maybe give Val Driscoll at "Hair To Wear Wigs" or Jim Bridges a call for a make-over and advice on your outfit. Then when your transformation is complete, take some photos and then go out and enjoy yourself. Please dahlings, do not sit in the corner like I have seen more than a few do. Live!

And oh my, have I got the show business bug in my panties. This little partyholic in heels just loves to go to the theater and hit the stage at the "Queen Mary Show Lounge" too. Went to see "Beauty and the Beast" with Encore's own Mistress Sophia. A fun date it was. If you have the opportunity do see the musical, the one on stage not on ice, do go and I will tell you again that it is fabulous. The folks at "Disney" did good because the story fits us all so very well. I could relate to being the town's odd one and outcast, maybe you can too, so see the show and bring your kids too.

At this time, I am planning on taking a short and well needed vacation. I plan to drive up to San Jose and see the folks at Pathway. Then I shall have a dinner and hit the "San Jose Center for the Performing Arts," to see, once again, my friend Cosette sing in Les Miserables. Jean Val Jean and Javier I know well. Then up to San Francisco to visit with a very special lady named, Mistress Vicci Gold. Next on my agenda, is an evening at a bed and breakfast inn north of the city in the "wine country." My plan is to cross over and hit the 395 highway south and camp and fish at Mammoth and Bishop, then back to the city of lights and my friends that will always be my sunshine.

o n t h e scene

The last few weeks I have been working just as hard, but also taking a few minutes to reflect on things. As you know, I have been on a 7/25 schedule (seven days a week and twenty five hours day & night). Driven like the blinding snow that only a "Noreaster" can bring. I have experienced and enjoyed many cities and adventures over the last two years. My greatest pleasure coming from meeting friends like you in the community. If you notice, most of my out of town photo spreads feature my new friends who are mostly "ladies" in the city I am visiting. This is also one of my great pleasures. For some time I have been aware of, but did not focus on the way my little office at home is setup. In a small room I have two clocks on opposite walls. One ticks a little louder than the other. Now, I really can tell that for quite some time I have not been hearing that nice paced slow cadence of the sixty second swing of the pendulum. No, the sound is hitting in double time, so instead of hearing "tick, tock, tick, tock with that lazy half second of silence in between my ears have been bombarded with tick, tick, tick, tick. Almost like a time bomb ticking away and my pace has been that frantic. Working "en femme" as a "extra" in a feature film being produced and filmed in Tinsletown is fun. Wish I could read that crystal ball and see where this is bringing me. I do know that I represent you in many ways at this point, and I have spoken publicly about issues that concern our community.

Recently, I met a charming lady on the movieset named, Raven who lives up near that Hollywood sign. I gave her a few copies of TV Epic to check out. She told me she read my column and was impressed with my sense of belonging and community. Hearing this made me realize how much I "harp" on this part of the scene. Well, finding the nebulous community was my dream and my salvation in many ways, and I have embraced it wholeheartedly. It is easy to sacrifice and give, if you know in your heart you are doing good. Yours truly, has tried to do my best to be a beacon of light in the night to my friends out there. Every so often, a lady will come to the Back Bar and thank me for my words of support and inspiration. These words are my elixir and my reward for work well done in the closets of men who wear dresses and walk in high-heels.

When I was a teenager, I read that Billy Graham the infamous preacher was a Scorpio and born on the same day as me, only a few years earlier.

Hanging out as a teenager, many of us practiced what we called, "Street Theater" to entertain ourselves and the passers by. It was then I started to do a preacher routine and imitate the Reverend Graham. It scarred me, and I stopped doing it because I realized that if I really worked at this, that very easily at eighteen years old I could be a successful preacher. It is very much acting and showmanship, and I put that part of me away on the shelf. Now I realize that I am preaching the gospel of the cross-dressing experience and lifestyle with the same passion that I would have, had I chose, to follow Mr. Graham's teachings and his community.

At this point I still hear those dueling clocks, like a time bomb, so I plan to keep on working as hard as I ever. Don't know any other way to be, and I seem to have done good things for myself and most important my special friends in the gender community. Tick, tick, tick.

Lately I have been pretty much doing the same thing on evenings when I am not out on the town all "dolled up." I get home around 5:30 p.m. and then I go out for dinner and hit a bookstore or coffee shop to read. Home for a while, doing this and that, and then around 9 p.m. I tune in the "English Broadcasting Service" of the BBC. I then start going over my files and material and hit the keyboard like I am doing now. Many times I will tune in Australia or Germany, and once in a while I can get a strong signal from Russia and Cuba. My ears are tuned in for news about gender or gender related issues, but it seems that this subject is little discussed. I did hear a show from Holland and they talked about a drag queen from New York who moved there and is now a "cult figure." She/he is the only queen in the country with any sense of fashion. Well she/he lived in the Big City and brought them glam drag and they love it. Mentioned was a television show that was a one time special called, "The Transvestite Show." Hundreds of teenagers showed up to enter this national drag competition. Hostess of the show was the queen from New York. Drag is everywhere and looks like we have been publicly outed or pulled kicking and screaming out of our closet.

Tomorrow I drive up to tinsletown to register with a major company that supplies "extras" to the movie industry. This company is legit as they say, and the owner told me that there will be plenty of work available. There is no business like show business and I have always dreamt of being in the industry. This does not mean I am looking to the stage or the bug screen as a way to move on as they say. No, not at all, as my plan is to write to you and for TV Epic until the day comes when one speaks of me in past tense. Honey, I will be writing to you as long as I can! "Let Me Die In Drag," as the infamous Ed Wood Jr. wrote and I feel the same way. "Hey the bitch went out in style and in her heels." I like that, and now on to more lively subjects.

We have another fetish ball presented by the folks at "E.S.P" and this time it is being held at the "Variety and Arts Center" in Los Angeles. I plan on hitting the "Queen Mary" and doing my fetish event. Then my plan is to leave early and hit the "E.S.P." affair.

This month I am planning on another trip to the City by the Bay. I want to attend the second annual "Grand Corset Celebration" sponsored by "C.U.R.V.E.S." (Corseting Union of Romantic Vivacious Elegants) C/O Romantasy, 199 Moulton Street, San Francisco, CA 94132, (415)637-3137.

Many of you know that I love metaphors and use them to help myself and others see things from the far side of the room, shall we say. Many times I see endeavors and projects and even goals in my life, as being akin to a farmer planting those fertile seeds in the warm brown earth. As a teenager, I lived in the Western end of Massachusetts and farming was very much a part of that world. My first job was working in those damned tobacco fields, it was tough work and I learned a lot from the experience. The joy of seeing the sun rising over those miles upon miles of milky white netting hovering over the plants to protect them from the direct rays of the sun, the smell of the soil as it heats up during the day, the joy of seeing Mother Nature truly at her glory, are some of my remembered experiences. Yes, and back to those seeds that are planted, we all start from a seed, "cum" to think of it. We as a community have been planting seeds for quite a while and I have personally seen and felt the changes reaped from the work. I am talking about all the hard work that so many of us have put in to try to change society and our status as second rate citizens because we are cross-dressers. It is natural for people to fear and even loath things that they do not understand and that are a mystery to them. Never mind the history of bad public relations that we have had to deal with. Seems like they have been putting us on the defensive since time began. Why do you do this? You must be gay? Do they know you do this at your job? "Honey, this is my job!" I tell em, and lately I have noticed that people are more accepting of myself and my lifestyle.

At work a new girl came in to do some temp work. Twenty two years old and going to college with long blonde hair and that Orange County breeding. A very nice girl, but not into the scene or even close. A whole universe away, but at a big tennis match in Ojai her boyfriend tells her that he wants her to meet a couple of "ladies" he just met. Well, come to find out, it is "first time out" for two men who are coming out. Broad daylight, and at a professional tennis match, and I love it. Thing was this girl had nothing negative to say and seemed to mention it as interesting, but I noticed that there was no negativity in her attitude about the incident.

When I was up in Hollywood signing up with a talent agency that specializes in supplying "extras" to the movie industry I went in drab (dressed as boy), and I had my resume and photos of Ms. Lacie. My material was on the desk of the lady handling applications. A number of people applying and working in the office noticed my photos and had complimentary remarks. For the last six months or so I have been dropping in for a cocktail at the local, down the street, "Birds Of Paradise" bar and eatery. Brad is the bartender who was there to answer the phone when I called the place asking what their "drag policy" was, and could Ms. Lacie drop by as I was down the street at a pay phone. Brad told me there was no policy and I was more than welcome anytime. I introduced myself to Brad and asked for a drink, and we had a chat. Seems that the owner did have a problem with queens, but that is overlooked and about once a month I make a point of hitting the club. I do this for a variety of reasons and the bottom line is that it is fun. Also, in the process, I make a point of saying hello to the gay guys there and usually have a conversation with one. Come to find out, I am about the only cross-dresser attending on a regular basis but that is O.K., some evening there will come a time when some local lady or out of townner wants to go there. My goal and focus is to have that lady find an establishment that is used to seeing and dealing with men "en femme." At this point, I feel that I am doing a good job on reaching that goal.

You and I both know right away when you walk into an club or bar if you fit in, and if you are accepted. One can read a cold shoulder in the daylight or the shadows of a club. Everytime I have entered the "Birds," as I call the place, yours truly gets a warm smile and welcome from Brad, and when the patrons who do not know me see him do this they are like the servants watching the kings reaction to the new scene maker. Thank you Brad, and I want to say that, "Yes, the times are a changing but we have a long way to go still!"

I was reading a book review and come to find out that Mother Theresa has a number of "Hospitals for the Dying," as they are called. The biggest one is in India and over 23,000 people have gone there to meet the spirit in the sky. She has one in the Castro district in San Francisco where mostly AIDS patients stay. It is documented that patients who have left the facility and returned "en femme" have been asked to leave! Can you imagine that, it is hard to believe, and as long as our community and it's members are treated as vermin there will be work to be done to change these injustices and RSVP on this one my friends.

Ladies listen, as I am going to try to run down a number of local events mostly presented by yours truly. Dining in drab is fun and is the rage to say the least. This month on the first Saturday evening the month I am inviting you and all the local ladies to a fun club featuring the waiters serving it up "en-femme." Join me for what I am calling, "Late Nite at Trilogy" featuring, the "Divas of Dining!" Located at 2214 Stoner off Olympic in West L.A. Easy to get to from the 405 or the Santa Monica 10 Freeway. Call (310) 477-2844 for reservations and directions.

Plan is to show up around or after ten and have cocktails and dinner. Enjoy the show and then head over to the "Queen Mary Show Lounge" around midnight. This should be a fabulous night for drinks, dining, and the company of exciting friends, old and new. Many of my mistress friends have mentioned that they are interested in attending so we shall see you at "Trilogy" on the first Saturday evening of the month.

Starting this month at the "Queen Mary Show Lounge" is a fun affair scheduled for every Wednesday night. It's a karaoke party and you are invited for a special night hosted by Jackie and bartender, Richard. The sign ups start at 8 p.m. so get your act together and we shall look forward to seeing you perform and strut your stuff or grab some friends and after your all "dolled up," hit the club and enjoy the show and the "Dance Party" till the wee hours of the morning. See you there!

Pull my daisy and tip my cup, because in a few minutes yours truly will be getting all "dolled up." At the last party a lady new to the scene came over to me and said, "Well Marlayna, here I am and I'm all "dolled up." It hit me with a smile that I connected once again just like I am doing with you right now. All my eggs are broken, but that is O.K., because it is a party night and soon I will be hitting the infamous Hollywood 101 Freeway. A special party will be happening on the fourth Saturday of next month, October 26th. The theme for my "Fantasy Fashion "Fetish" Nite" event, will be "Hooked On Drag." A pre Halloween party with plenty of fun friends, old and new. Yes, I will have door prizes along with those complimentary copies of TV Epic. Plan to hit "Versatile Fashions" for some fun giveaways and we shall be picking out the winner of best costume and more. Little Debbie will be working the door and yours truly and Miss Marla will be putting up the buffet. I will have more details in next month's TV Epic.

Once again, I am going to ask you for a favor (if you can). Should you find that your local adult bookstore is not carrying TV Epic please request that they do or send me their name or business card. By any chance if you know of a distributor in your area then by all means send me their name. My goal is to make TV Epic available to all who want it.

Have to mention that yours truly is now handling the advertising for TV Epic. Please keep this in mind and should you or anyone you know want to place an ad contact me, my voice mail number is (310)229-5213. Well, that's all the news from "Marlayna's World" as one of my friends put it. Next month is Halloween so if this is the only time you can get all "dolled up" then go for it!

I wish you love.

P.S. Next month we will feature celebrities on the front and back cover. Also October will be a special "girls dress as boys" issue.

Wayne/Jayne County and the Electric Chairs hits (i.e. Love songs) include "(If You Don't Wanna Fuck Me Baby) Fuck Off," Wonder Woman," "Are You Man Enough To Be A Woman?" and the title from her recently released best of compilation, "Rock And Roll Cleopatra." Jayne carved a niche for herself early on in New York's rock scene, performing at Max's Kansas City and CBGB's with The New York Dolls, Patti Smith, The Ramones, Iggy and many others. She has inspired (and in some cases, paved the way for) David Bowie, Boy George, RuPaul, Divine, NY Dolls, and punk rock in general. Details Magazine proclaimed: "Gender bending New York rocker Jayne County occupies a unique spot in the mid-70's Max/CBGB demimonde; this campy, crude talking transsexual added outrageous gay sensibility to the original punk scene." Vox Magazine dubbed "Jayne County, the Liz Taylor of punk." Maximum Rock N Roll says "...County's sleaze rock sensibility, whore-ish dress sense and paint stripping vocals are as fierce as ever and ready to terrorize a new generation of audiences."

Nineteen-ninety six seems to be Jayne's year as New York City has embraced her with open thighs and she is the "Queen Of The Town." Have to mention that her new track, "Deviation" on "Royalty Records," is a must have. Very obvious that before the term was coined Jayne must have heard the slogan, "You Go Girl" and Go and Go and Go!"

Lately I have been doing something that I never thought I would. My focus used to be on attending parties, fetish parties, and balls. Now many of my evenings out "en femme" are for dinner and socializing. The thing is that this brings me to many public places. Ones that I would never have gone to say two years ago. I did not have the confidence and the sense of purpose that I now have when I first started to go to public places, I felt like the eyes of the whole world were on me.

Yes, people do check out men in dresses. Most of all I realized that we all look up when someone new enters a club or party room. Sit in a restaurant and check out how people watch and look over each other. If you walk in and look at the people with a glazed look of terror, of course they are going to pay more attention to you. I guess that at this point I am so comfortable being out that I now pay them no mind. Yes, I am aware of the looks or occasional stares. I feel that if there is a "problem" then it is with them and I go on about my business. I find that dining out "en femme" is a true joy. It is true there is nothing like good friends, food, wine, music, and a little "girl talk" over a cocktail. You and I deserve the best that life has to offer and there is "no" reason why limits should be put on one. Fortunately, in Southern California we have at least half a dozen top rate eateries that have an "open door" policy. When I go out now I can go to "Tommy Tangs" and "Checca Club" on Santa Monica Boulevard, the "Venture Inn" or "Wellingtons." These are a few of the venues that are open to us. I also go to "Twains" which is up the street from the "Queen Mary" for a late night snack after a party. I always enjoy myself and when I meet new friends or catch someone eye balling me I just go on many times saying to myself, This goes with the territory and is part of my adventure that I call dealing with coming out.

What an adventure this thing we call

Dealing with Coming Out

by Marlayna Lacie

life is. We never know what the future will bring. No, I am not "Gumperizing" with a simple stupid philosophy. Life is more than what you get when you cut open the chocolates. I do not care for that metaphor because we have the freedom to make choices. You want to play with the metaphor of the chocolate box and what's inside. One can go out to the East Coast and find companies that make and produce fine boxes of chocolates and candies. I know because I worked in one of them. The West Coast has some fine candy and chocolate companies, and when I was in Chicago I found two that were a treat. So before one even opens the box, one has the choice of which box to buy and where to purchase it. In life, we sometimes come to points when picking out the candy box is a momentous decision. I recall the evening Tasha said to me, "Hey Baby, what's your ice cream?" I assumed she was not asking about my preference for pistachio nut as opposed to butter pecan. Before I knew it, the idea hit me that she was asking me what turns me on? Well, that was an easy thing to focus on and I still like the line about ice cream. Let me ask you so you can think about it, "Hey Doll, what's your ice cream?"

Once you go out "en-femme" you will never be the same, and your out look on the world and your place in it will change. You will find yourself questioning many of your feelings, wants, and needs. To expect that you will and can avoid these emotional and educational minefields is foolish. You must allow yourself the room and space to learn and mature. Going home after a disappointing night, and sometimes that happens, is not the way to go and you must try to turn all the negatives you face into positives. I think about this because recently my career is bringing me into very well known and somewhat famous places. It started with the event at the "Playboy Mansion" last year. It has led to a possible evening at the nightclub owned by the infamous Johnny Depp called, "The Viper Room." I have never been to a high profile show business club like this and it will be a new adventure.

A new chapter for Ms. Lacie as this certainly encompasses territory that is filed in a special folder. You see, I am looking forward to this because most likely yours truly will be on the "guest list" for a show featuring the legendary punk dragster in a dress, Jayne County. The wild woman invades the Southland for one night and I called the club as soon as I heard about the show. Later I got a fax from Jayne's management company in New York. I possibly may have an interview with Jayne as the people were impressed with my credentials. I also have an interview lined up with Holly Woodlawn tomorrow night. So I find that I am following my heart, as I must, and making decisions that bring me to places where I will meet John Q. Public and celebrities.

You see, I feel in many ways like I did the first night I got all dolled up and walked through the doors that open up to the Back Bar at the "Queen Mary Show Lounge." I will be going out and meeting new people and friends, and I will be in a public place miles away from the supportive environment the club offers. Yet, I find myself looking forward to the evening and realize that is another chapter in the book of my life that I share with you. The one I call and refer to as dealing with coming out.

There she was, sweet Jayne County, and I was on my heels and off the seat in half a heart beat. I had been sitting in one of the back booths in actor Johnny Depp's notorious Hollywood club called, "The Viper Room." Manager Kim was real sweet and made sure I was taken care of, and I enjoyed a rousing set by a trio from Detroit called, "The Demolition Doll Rods." A cross-dresser and his two younger sisters who played to an impatient but courteous crowd. All wore Valentine pasties and panties. They were finishing up with their last number which was a blues tune that was pleasing the crowd. It was then that I spied a big blonde bombshell, a lady who could only be the legendary transsexual punk rocker. My seat was comfortable, but I gave it up to get an interview with Jayne. Thanks to M.E. who works the management company that handles Jayne's affairs, I got the red carpet "get in and close the door" treatment. While the crowd waited, and the stage was being setup, I asked Jayne about her life and her newest adventures. We were three minutes into it and Jayne's manager appeared and told us that Jayne had to do an unscheduled sound check. No problem! and Jayne told me that she would call me tomorrow. I went out and enjoyed the show, she was great, and her band kicked ass. Jayne did call and we decided that an interview over the phone would work. She was resting up and then had to appear at a record store on Santa Monica (S & M) boulevard. This time we had a nice chat and here is what "The Queen Of Punk" has to say about more than a few things.

Marlayna: So how are things going for you right now in New York?

Jayne: Actually, I'm trying to put a sweater on. It's cold and raining so we were stuck inside. Last night a group of us went over to a club called, "The Squeezbox." It was a rancid crowd. A bunch of yobs with baseball caps and not the type of crowd I like to play to.

Marlayna: Did you enjoy your trip to Southern California?

Jayne: Oh yes, I loved it. I just didn't have time to do all I wanted to do. Personal things, and I wanted to do more work in the studio and interviews, and other stuff. Anyway, I needed more time on my own and another week would have been fine. Next time out I will plan on staying a week or so.

Marlayna: I wanted to ask you when did you first start singing in a band?

Jayne: I had my first band in New York in the seventies and it was called, "Queen Elizabeth." Named after a queen in Georgia named Elizabeth who got a job in a ladies clothing store as a "lady" modeling clothes. She was famous for that, and the story goes that one day the boss lady walked in when she was changing clothes and she was out the door!

Marlayna: Well, she was really "outed!"

Jayne: Oh, she was very famous for that! Well, I named my band after the Queen of England and now I'm the Queen Atlanta!

Marlayna: Did you ever do any gigs for Andy Warhol?

Jayne: Oh yes, I did a play for Andy and it was his first stage production. He only did two, they were very rare. He really didn't want to do theater so it was a rare occasion.

Marlayna: What was the name of the play?

Jayne: It was called "Pork" and that was around 1971.

Marlayna: So was it after that when you moved to London or have you been traveling back and forth over the years?

Jayne: Yes, that's basically about it, plus I've spent time in Germany, Spain, and Holland.

Marlayna: So, what do you think about the new resurgence in "drag" in films and in rock and roll?

Jayne: Well, I think this time it's for real. You know how years back people would pretend to be "gay" one day and deny it the next day and say, "Oh, I'm not, I was just acting!" Or that I was just doing it for business reasons. There are real gender-benders now, you've got real cross-dressers and transvestites. So we have the real thing.

Marlayna: What is going on back in New York right now?

Jayne: Well, we are in the process of shooting a new video. The people from MTV requested one so we are busy with that. I am also getting ready to present my new book called, "Man Enough To Be A Woman" soon. It has been released in Europe and soon will be available here in the states.

Marlayna: Do you have any plans to come back to L.A. in the near future?

Jayne: Maybe at the end of the summer. We would like to play a larger, straighter rock club and spend some more time in the studio.

Marlayna: Well, it was a treat to see your show at "The Viper Room."

Jayne: It was a fun place to play, and we had a great time in Hollywood. I look forward to visiting again and we shall see you all then.

Talking to Lois Comondenominator from "Dragazine" magazine today and what an interesting lady she is. We first met at the cast party for the folks from "Wigstock: The Movie" at "Tommy Tangs" on Melrose avenue. The last time I laid my eyes on her was at the VIP lounge at "Wigstock West 1996" in San Francisco. Miss C., as I call her, is a real scenester and gets her little tush to all the fun affairs. Found out from her that more than a few of the local ladies have "extra" parts in a new movie called, "Eraser." It is a nightclub/bar scene and Lois mentioned about half a dozen names of ladies seen.

Good news, and I was happy to hear this, and next week I sign up with another Hollywood talent agency. This company just signed a contract to supply "extras" for four feature films. Good news for the gender community is that the movie industry had to take the "lock off the closet." Cross-dressers and many people involved in alternative lifestyles are now getting work in tinseltown. For me, and many others, this is the best thing that has come from that "gender bender wagon train" that started with the film called, "The Crying Game." Look back a few years and you will find one of my first articles for my "TV Screen & Stage" series. I predicted that the movie industry would jump on the trail and did they ever. I could write out a list of "drag" movies that have come out since then, but you know the names of most of them. These movies, along with gender bending television commercials like the ones from "Clothestime" are part of a social phenomena that will be part of our history someday. Most likely in the year 2050 it might be written that in the late nineties along with the end of the AIDS epidemic (they are close to a cure), the country was gender bending.

One of my favorite publications is called, "Time Out New York." It features in-depth stories and reviews on mostly show business events in the big apple. From what I can see in New York there are a hell of a lot more theaters featuring movies and live Broadway and off Broadway productions. Right now a popular one is called, "The Slow Drag," a new jazz play by Carson Kreitzer. The story is about a woman who cross-dresses as a man to gain acceptance in a male dominated music industry. Done on the night of his/her death in flashback style and format. It features live music from a hot little jazz band featuring, Peggy Shaw as "Johnny," Vernal Bagneris as "Chester," and features, Ann Crumb as "June." It has not hit LA. yet, but the girls in "drag" phenomena is big in New York. I predict it will hit the West Coast by the end of the year. To honor these ladies who don themselves in male apparel, I chose to feature ladies who are considered to be superstars. Both are well known to audiences who have seen them on television, the silver screen or live on stage. The one and only, Julie Andrews and the diva of the spiders web, Chita Rivera. Both these ladies dress "en-masculine" in recent stage productions and since TV Epic is a medium for cross-dressers, I felt it was more than appropriate to feature them.

New York seems to be the place for live "drag" acts and I get my information from a number of sources. On Sunday nights one can check out a club called, "FEZ" that features chic Sundays with it's newest first lady, Bunny. She "hips your favorite hop," as the ad copy says, and you don't have to be gay but it helps. Sounds like a fun time and I had the opportunity to meet Mister Bunny in San Francisco. He is charming and a little eccentric/eclectic which is just the way I thought he would be. An entertainer morning, noon, and night. I also want to thank the Lady Bunny for being so nice to me at "Wigstock West 1996." Yours truly requested some of that infamous "camera time" while I was cruising the backstage area. Bunny was nice enough to accommodate me, and I do appreciate it. Joey Arias continues to perform at "BAR-DO," and a number of other clubs, and last month he was cruising around Europe and Greece. Sounds like a drag Joey and I will be looking forward to seeing you at "Bar Marmuant" in Beverly Hills. Heard that there are two new drag clubs being put together here in Los Angeles and I will keep you informed. Well, that is all from your in-house "screen queen."

By-Miss Tasha LaBlush

"HEY, DO YOU WANNA SEE ME DO HER?"...Marilyn Monroe says to her friend as they walk down a New York City sidewalk. Up until that moment they were just two ordinary women walking down the street attracting no special attention from anyone. "...do you wanna see me do her?"

"She could turn something on inside her just like a light bulb. There would be this inner light that would come on," said her friend, "and when she did turn that on (the friend gestures with her hands as if to pull a chain on a light bulb) people would stand back in awe and murmur 'is that her, could it be?'"

Madison Square Garden; Happy Birthday Mr. President. She sings Happy Birthday to JFK. "I can now retire from politics having had Marilyn Monroe sing happy birthday to me," said JFK. She was never more "on." Bobby was in the audience as Peter Lawford introduced: "And now Mr. President, ladies and gentlemen, the late Marilyn Monroe." (She had arrived late but was none the less stunning, sort of Freudian, too.)

A storybook heroine; will you ever forget her in "The Seven Year Itch" as her dress is blown up innocently revealing her panties? On the screen she was always, always "on."

She could "do her" and in her own words, "I could put on a coat, scarf, no make up and go about unnoticed." She could also not do her. Being a TV is very much like that, there are those times when you wish to simply not be "on." To go unnoticed. Don't ya' think?

Of course for TV's there are times when, baby, you just gotta "do her!" "HEY, DO YOU WANNA SEE ME DO HER?" You go girl!

More chit-chat for ya'...did you know?...those silly sissy dandies during the reign of the Roman Empire, they rouged their knees and elbows! They also practiced a varicose cosmetic custom by tracing the veins in their arms with a blue stain. Those dizzies thought it was distinctive. Oh well, think I'll just stick to a little rouge on my nipples (did you hear that, Mr. Roy Nipple??). Wonder where Spartacus put his rouge, Baby? Ha!

More good news...last time out we talked about the wonderful world of Pretty Panties and I told you about "the ultimate" panty magazine, PANTY LINES. To follow up on that: my personal friends, Princess Lacey and Sissyboy Jimmie at Princess Productions will give you FREE OF CHARGE a copy of their magazine simply by writing them and mentioning yours truly, Miss Tasha. What a panty opportunity! All they ask is you send a signed note stating that you're eighteen or older. The free offer is also extended to their current customers.

You can write to them at: Princess Productions, P.O. Box 10883, Chicago, IL 60610-0883. They now have 10 volumes of Panty Lines with #11 due out soon. Get your panties in a twist, baby and writethem...you'll be a very happy panty girl...just like me in my Vanity Fairs!

One more thing, this is final call for the Panty Chain Letter. If you're interested, it does not involve money. To find out about it write care of this column. You must include a stamped envelope for a reply!

Looks like everyone is jumping on the "drag wagon" these days. Did you see the Arnold movie "Erasure?" There's a drag bar scene with performers on stage. It caught me by surprise! Lots of queens were at the bar playing suck face with guys, too. Oh my goodness, such bad girls!

Did anybody get off on my script column "Out on Hiway 69?" We actually performed it live at two parties. Funny thing, the first time, when Rat Jacket goes to pull out her knife, it had slipped down inside her costume and she couldn't find it, so she says, "...if I had a knife I'd cut you Big Mama!" It was a riot.

I have another one of those called "Sexx, Playtex and a Red Headed Transvestite from Outer Space." Let me know if you liked it dearest reader dahlink and I'll share it with you. Laughter is good for the old sphinter!

Next time you're getting dressed up to go out or stay in and play think about this: you've carefully applied your make up, lipstick and favorite perfume, your nails are long and gleaming, your panties and stockings are feeling exquisite, you have on your spike heels and your hair is perfect in every way. You're wearing a new outfit that makes you feel like a sex goddess. You're about to move away from your vanity mirror, you tilt your head, pucker your red lips and in a seductive voice you say to yourself, "hey, do you wanna see me do her?"

Love, Sin and Gin,
Miss Tasha LaBlush

PS - This is for my dear friend and bartender at the Queen Mary, Jon-Jon. By the time you read this, baby, hope you'll be back pouring me a drink a gabbing like we always have done. I miss you. Love and Get Well Soon! Kiss-kiss, but no tongue!

BE ALL 96

This year's "Be All Convention" was held in Troy, Michigan. It was the tenth year for this event. As with most of the gender conventions, this event is moved around from year to year. This year there were 225 people attending. Next year the convention will be held in Chicago, Illinois. The ladies were kept busy from the moment they arrived. The first night there was a barbecue, followed by a pool party. As usual there were only a few brave souls who went in the water.

BY JIM BRIDGES

This is Winnie from Maine, she attends almost as many conventions as I do.

This is a real sweetheart from the mid-west. Her name is Susan.

Michelle is always a class act, with a warm smile and twinkling blue eyes.

All smiles is our fashion plate from Florida, Marsha. Can you believe this bomb shell is 70 plus? I'm not telling secrets, she is proud of it.

Ashley donned her Joan Collins look for the banquet. Quite a change from her usual blonde.

Always a knock out in basic black is Denise. I can always count on her for a new dirty joke and an evening of fun.

Here is another dear friend of mine, Rita. As you can see she has a MILLION DOLLAR SMILE and it never stops.

Marie was all smiles when I asked her to show off her new swim suit.

I hope you have enjoyed an inside peek from the 1996 "Be All Convention," and you will join us next year in Chicago. Till the next time, this is Jim Bridges saying, make 96 the year to kick open that closet door.

The glamorous movie queen behind those Foster Grants is Gail.

Always an elegant look, in black velvet and gold satin is Rachel.

Teri was one of the brave souls to hit the water.

Alexis likes that natural fresh out of the shower look. Alexis is a good friend of mine, so I can give her a hard time.

Gender Expressions
by Melissa Foster

In the early part of June every year you can find many people from all over the country traveling to the "Be All Convention" that is hosted by four transgendered organizations. Each year the convention is rotated to one of the cities of the sponsors of the convention. This year's convention was held in Cincinnati, Ohio and hosted by "Crossport of Cincinnati Transgendered Organization" and was chaired by Linda Buten. This the 13th annual "Be All Convention" was held June 7th to June 11th at the "Holiday Inn" in the Blue Ash Area of Cincinnati.

Last year's convention began on Wednesday the 7th of June. The vendors setup and rooms were open for registration. Then they had a cocktail party and buffet dinner. Later that evening they had a pool party.

Thursday they started off with a Continental Breakfast and we then went into morning sessions from 9:30 to 11:30 a.m., covering several areas like: hair removal, correct fitting for underground single cross-dressing rap session, and improving your self-esteem. They took a break for time to visit vendors, and for lunch. At lunch they had a fashion show and then we went back for the afternoon sessions at 2 p.m. The afternoon was filled with a number of special subjects; "Wives/S.O.," "Employment Issues," "Minorities in Cross-dressing," "Understanding Hormones," "Native American Traditions," "Humor in Uniform," "Life Circles/ Life Dynamics."

At 6 p.m., for those who were interested, we had dinner on a river boat cruise. At 10 p.m. we enjoyed the night life on "Covington's Landing."

Friday the ninth of June started off with a Continental Breakfast, and then we went into morning sessions which covered several subjects: "Finishing School," "Sharing Your Gift with Your Family," "Advanced Cross-Dressing," and "Building Your Transition Team." Then they took a break to get ready for lunch and visit the vendor area. The luncheon started at noon, the guest speaker was Riki Anne Wilchins from "Transsexual Manice," who spoke about "Transgender." At 2 p.m. the afternoon sessions begin with:

"Couples Open Forum Fashion and Style," "Cosmetic Surgery," "Legal rights," and "Speaking as Women."

At 5 p.m. we took a break to get ready for dinner. Cocktails were served from 6:30 p.m. to 7:30 p.m. Dinner was served, followed by the "Miss Be All Contest," (with ten contestants). After the "Miss Be All Contest," recognition was given to all those who had worked so hard at putting the convention together. Transportation was setup to take all those who wanted to go line dancing at a country western gay bar. Those who didn't want to go line dancing, partied at the hotel bar or went out on the town.

Saturday was another long day, starting off with a Continental Breakfast at 5 and sessions beginning at 9:30 a.m. with: "Wig and Hair Styling," "Importance of Women Partners and Best Friends," and "Transition to Full-Time." Sessions ran until 11:30 a.m., then we took a break to get ready for lunch. The guest speaker was Allison Lang, the newly hired executive director for the "International Foundation Of Gender Education." She talked about her transition into her new job as executive director of the "International Foundation Of Gender Education," and what her plans and goals are in the coming years. Sessions began again at 2 p.m., with another packed schedule of classes that were: "Transgendered Surgery," "Building a Support Group," "Becoming a Sexual Person," "Cross-Dressing Issues," and "Transgendered Lifestyle." Then we took a break to get ready for dinner.

Cocktails started at 6:30, and the "Be All Formal Dinner Dance" started at 7:30 p.m. Music began at 9 p.m. with the "Johnny Mack Band" playing music from the big band era.

Sunday morning there were church services held from 9 to 10:00 a.m., with the "Farewell Brunch" beginning at 9:30 a.m.

The "Be All Convention" has always been known for putting together an outstanding convention. From the professionals that they have approached in their sessions, their guest speakers, and the selection of vendors they have brought in to help provide services to the participants. Everyone seemed to really have a great time. I have been fortunate to have attended four of these events; two in Pittsburgh, one in Chicago, and this one in Cincinnati. They have all been really great conventions, and they have always had a very good turn out, and are always a lot of fun.

This year I didn't get to participate as much as I would have liked to because I had to attend an "International Foundation Of Gender Education" board meeting, and I had spent the last two weeks in Thailand on business. I had just returned to Lakewood and had to go to a three day conference for work, then fly out to Cincinnati, so my time clock was a little turned around.

The convention is always held the first part of June. Whatever location that the "Be All Convention" is held at, they normally have a number of good outside events that are going on that are very enjoyable, whether as a part of the convention or as something you would like to do on your own. They always seem to have information about most anything you would like to do. So if you need information or have any questions, let me know.

This evening was an eventful one with "ladies" from all over the planet attending. Marla and I spent a little extra time putting up the buffet as there was no rush. A cute little number from England was asking if it O.K. to take a few photos as this was her first time out in the U.S.A. Fabulous dahling, and we love having you. Yes, the big red carpet welcome goes out to all.

Whether it be leather, latex, rubber, PVC or ??, this is the night to pull it off the rack or from the closet then head on down to the corner of Ventura and Whitsett in Studio City. Drop on by Jim Brides Boutique and then hit the party at the Back Bar. Me and my little twisted sister in heels, Miss Marla will be doing that "camera time" thing. So after you have ordered your cocktail do come over and say hello.

Have to thank Pathway Communications for the complimentary TV Epics and continued support. Also want to thank Robert Juleff and the staff at the "Queen Mary Show Lounge" and most important all of you who have attended and continue to support the longest running monthly "fetish" fashion party on the West Coast.

Miss Joni Deere is back and we love her.

Cece working it.

We know how frustrating it can be to lose a picture by sending it to an irresponsible person or couple who neglect to return it. That's why Pathway Communications is now offering a special service for our readers which will safeguard your pictures from loss, and it's as easy as 1, 2, 3!

Here's how it works:

Marlayna Lacie
 PRESENTS
 "ON THE SCENE NITE"
 (Second Saturday of every Month)

Big smile from waiter Allen.

Jim Bridges and Ms. Debbie at the Back Bar door.

Hey Marla, what's the buzz doll?

Looking sexy in Marlene's corner.

Two of the new "ladies" on the scene.

Miss Monica back in town.

The summer is finally here and my how we have so many short skirted sweet and sexy looking ladies attending the parties. This evening was special as my dear friend Ms. Raven and her entourage of tinseltown scenesters showed up to see the show and party with yours truly.

Jim Bridges made the scene with his new "friend" Miss Gina, and the last time I saw them they were tearing up the totally crowded dance floor. Chinese fortune cookies for all as this evening was the "Oriental Evening" theme. I picked up some colorful decorations at the local party store and they do seem to work.

Plenty of partying and playing on this sultry moonlit night in Southern California. Should you decided to get all "dolloed up" then circle the second Saturday of the month and head on down to the "Queen Mary Show Lounge." I will have new and complimentary copies of TV Epic along with a tasty treat buffet put out with the help of my twisted sister in heels, Miss Marla. Plenty of fun and FREE door prizes donated by the folks at "Versatile Fashions." This month's event is on the second, and I shall see you there!

You go girl!

Yes, we will put your photo in TV Epic sweetie.

Dangerous on the dance floor.

WELCOME TO NEW ORLEANS

The Lusty Ladies Of The South

New Orleans, the lusty lady of the South...and what better way to feel the steamy attitude than through the many shows and performers who make it a special city. The drag scene in New Orleans is quite a variety, offering everything from glamour to alternative interpretations. Each venue in the Crescent City has its own flavor and many special ladies who make up the different casts.

The cast at OZ is a sizzling taste of New Orleans night life. Hosted by Becky Allen, New Orleans only "female" female impersonator, OZ starts their show each night with "Drag Races." A handful of participants are selected from the audience, given an allotted amount of time to do make up and get dressed...then they perform and a cash prize is awarded to the best act.

Following this lighthearted opening, the magic of OZ begins. Becky Allen, who is known for her "N'Awlins" style of camp humor, begins the show and has everyone laughing. As she introduces the first act, you are taken to a plateau of excellence. The headliner at OZ is Miss Raquel Chevallier, the reigning Miss Gay Louisiana, and what a star she is! Raquel, who has competed on the national level whips the audience into a frenzy with her hypnotic movements and renderings of many pop favorites. Following her is Terrel Lyn Fox, a Black beauty, whose custom costumes never stop at teasing alone. Her lithesome movements are followed through out the floor as she does an acrobatic dance. Ursuline Burgundy, who has been around the local scene for many years, brings with her a more traditional approach, always clad in a beautiful gown to compliment her ladylike moves.

Welcome to the French Quarter here in ol "N'Awlins!"

Becky Allen is New Orleans only "FI" actress/comedienne.

If the show at OZ hasn't been a show stopper, then surely the cast at Footloose, which is nestled on a corner on Rampart Street is. This area was formerly Storyville, home to the United States only legal red light district at the turn of the century. Owners Mac & Todd have decorated this landmark building and recreated a turn of the century show-room. While many shows are just lip-synching, Footloose's cast does actual renditions...live. Led by Miss Lisa Beaumann, whose snappy repertoire includes Liza, Cher, and even an occasional Marilyn.

Phoebe, another cast member, was voted New Orleans entertainer of the year at the recent "Gay Appreciation Awards." She does many sultry numbers with her raspy voice. Always one to do just "one more" for an always appreciative audience, Phoebe can be counted on. Both Lisa and Phoebe have teamed up together to present their own show called, "Broadway Babies." Showcasing a greatest hits of show tunes, this show is a much sought after ticket as they do this performance a few times per year, and each time it is from a different era. While Lisa may be a Ziegfeld Girl, Phoebe will recreate Norma Desmond.

Miss Stephanie Williams, who's vivacious stage movements mimics are ala-Marilyn Monroe, leads the crowd into a sultry emotion filled presentation. Leaving the audience always gasping for the star to return to the stage.

While New Orleans may be the Big Easy,...surely these girls ain't!
