

Julia, all set for a showbiz career

Picture by BILL ZYGMANT

BY GEORGE, IT'S JULIA!

LOOKING every inch a woman, sex-change "star" Julia Grant is all dressed up and ready to go in the glittering world of showbiz.

Her shock snip-by-snip transformation from dockerman's son George Roberts will be seen on television this week.

Meanwhile, a new £2,500 wardrobe of figure-hugging sequined gowns will, she hopes, launch the 27-year-old

... and as George ash blonde on a new career. She's working on an "adults only" one-woman show of sexy songs, risque jokes and no-punches-pulled chat.

Says husky-voiced Julia who spent £700 on the development of a 42-inch bust: "My life is so bizarre, I'm sure people will find it fascinating."

"I used to work the clubs as a female impersonator—now there's no need as I AM a woman."

The operation that finally changed George into Julia will be seen on Friday on BBC2 in the final part of a controversial three-part documentary starting on Wednesday.

She said: "I hope the programme will get over to people the heterosexual world."

PRESSCUT

from

PRESSMATS

[PRESS MONITORING
AGENCY FOR TRANS-SEXUALS]