ON THE SCENE NITE & FANTASY FASHION FETISH NITE at the QUEEN MARY SHOW LOUNGE

W

here did the year go? Flew right by like a mad queen trying to pull up her pantyhose strutting down S & M Blvd. Hollywood was the place for many of the year's gender bending blow outs. Topping it off had to be the affair put on by New York Di co Diva Susanne Bartsch and Hugh Hefner along with the Playboy staff. An APLA (AIDS PROJECT LOS ANGELES) benefit called "The Hoppening." A super celestial "Drag Party" at the posh Beverly Hills Playboy Mansion. Stars a plenty mixing, mingling, and gendering with Hugh, Rosanne Barr who won the "Bunny of the 90's" competition. I had the pleasure to chat with the charming Pamela Sue Anderson and many other celebrities. Joey Arias channeled "Billie Holiday" and the gender bender bandwagon was cutting a wide path through tinsletown.

Lady Bunny has to be the "Lady of the Year." Actually, she deserves the title for the last ten years. A treat to have the premiere of director Barry Shills dragumentary "Wigstock: The Movie." Starting off the festivities was an invitation only "cast party" for the movie at Tommy Tang's on trendy Melrose Ave. Next evening was the premiere at the prestigious Directors Guild Building on Sunset Blvd. We had the big success of the notorious macho drag fest "Dragstrip 66" and my how gender bending is in style. There are many who are not comfortable with the new focus on crossdressing and the transgendered community. All these movies and events bring attention to many men who do not care for the spotlight. Fine for you Marlayna, some of you may say to yourselves. As I admit that I am a "Media Whore." I also see that we have to look at it from many corners of the room. Would you feel comfortable with a camera crew at your local hangout? Or at your Powder Puffs or Tri Ess meeting? I don't think so and I feel that many ladies in these groups do not want the attention that the gender bending media blitz bandwagon brings.

Valid point and what is the answer to this? I do not know and one can only watch and see change. Attitudes and images are being transformed and turned upside down everyday. The word gender is at this time almost indefinable. The thing that bothers me the most is that all of us are being put in a gold lame file. The file says "Drag Queen" and you and I are going to be looked upon and called this more and more. The boys in "The Adventures of Priscilla, Queen of the Desert" are referred to and billed as drag queens. The macho male actors in "To Wong Foo, Thanks For Everything Julie Newmar" portray three drag queens. I do not recall if drag queen was in the script of "The Crying Game."

At this point if a friend or family member finds out you crossdress. Most likely they will assume you do it to attract men. That you get all dolled up like Kiki. A mimueted debutante of the Sunset Strip and you wear a shiny metallic blouse. Leather skirt with six inch heels and chase after cars down Hollywood Blvd. Then they if one is a "Drag Queen" the rest are either educated on gender related issues or they ask if you are a transvestite or transsexual. For better or for worse most of our population finds Gender Ed 101 on Donahue, Oprah, and a zillion other talk shows. If you have ever had to explain to someone the difference between a pre-op transex and a post-op transsexual you can relate. A shame that there are not more programs focused on educating people about crossdressing and gender issues. Instead we titillate on low level entertainment.

Many of you are aware that the parties at the Queen Mary Show Lounge have been running a steady course for over six years. The focus of "On The Scene Nite" was to give the local transgendered community a special night once a month. Special invitations were extended to "ladies" who were planning on taking those first exhilarating steps out "en-femme." The invite and red carpet welcome was also given to "out of towners." It brings me great satisfaction and joy that over the years so many have traveled from around the world to attend. The Queen Mary Show Lounge soon was given the title "The Mecca Of Cross-dressing." From Charleston, North Carolina to Seattle, Washington to visit the club, as the story goes the OTSN party grew too big for it's pantyhose. The answer was the longest running fetish event on the West Coast "Fantasy Fashions Fetish Nite." The fourth Saturday of the month is a night to dress up in your finest "haute couture" fetish fashions and gear. A night to meet gender bending dominant divas and delightful and delectable nymphs of neuter gender. Latex, rubber, pvc, and more! Once again the parties are held in the Back Bar. No reservations necessary. I suggest you plan yourself a special night out. Schedule your make-over at Jim Bridges Boutique early. Be sure to call the manager Robert at the Queen Mary. Get reservations for the spectacular "Las Vegas Style" celebrity female impersonator revue. Catch the show and then join me and many of the local ladies and gents in the notorious Back Bar.

Next year every fetish party will have a theme with plenty of prizes contributed by Versatile Fashions. The OTSN party will feature the choosing of the evenings "Lipstick Lady." She will be given some of that special camera time along with a variety of gifts. Events will feature free copies of TV Epic magazine and a tasty buffet. I recently received a package I ordered from a novelty and party goods mail order house called the "Oriental Trading Company." Full of decorations and little gifts that are fun and ready to use. I plan to spice up the buffet and most likely I will put out that infamous cheese. I do not mind being tagged as "The Cheese Queen." Actually, I sort of take it as a sideways compliment. Those who attend will be treated to a new feel and ambiance, and I do hope to see you soon.

On The Scene has a very wide definition to me. I started writing this column about six months after my first night out "en femme." After that night for a long time I was afraid to drive in drag. Tasha would drive and I would ride shotgun as they say. Those nights and miles up the Hollywood 101 Freeway are now memorable ones. Like a child in his first ice cream shop I was ecstatic on many levels. My mind like a sponge, I was consuming and processing every move and nuance that came my way. Trial and error was the name of the game and some nights I was the "three hour girl." No Jim Bridges or Val Driscoll in those days to provide professional services and products. My world "en femme" was private parties and the Back Bar. This at the time was "my scene" and was all I could talk and write about at that time.

Times change and the world is my stomping grounds, as I connect with and hear from "ladies" all over the world. I am fortunate to have found success on many levels in my life. I still focus and strive to keep alive the commitment I made to myself and you when I started this column. That was to be a messenger and report to you the current news, stories, and information on the local gender community. Like I said, I am globally connected at this point so I now write about events that you may be interested in. I try to update the Community Calendar pages in this publication and provide space for community events. We now feature photos and articles from many of the top crossdressing events in the country. Jim Bridges and Melissa Foster can cover events that I can not. The bottom line is that you get a grand assortment of talented, dedicated writers that come from the gender community. I have some information about groups and events that I feel you should be aware of. I also want to say that you and I and the men who cross-dress, are fortunate to have a publication like this one. Yes, competition is good and it is nice that you have a choice. I look at many of the publications that come out that are for the transgendered. There are some good ones, but there is also a glut of trash out there.

Once again I have a special announcement for "out of towners" and "ladies" new to the crossdressing experience and lifestyle. Many times I have been asked to accompany a person new to the scene, to assist them with a multitude of requests. Everything from taking them shopping, to booking them a room and setting up appointments with stylists and beauty experts in the community. I write and tell these ladies that I am sorry, but I do not live close to the club and do not have the time to play big sister. I am pleased to tell you that my dear friend Leya Quest took my advice and has started a venture called "Big Time Sister." The copy on Leya's card reads: "Ever Wish You Could Be A Girl And Enjoy It, Let Me Show You How!" Leya will be your personal guide in heels and I can tell you she knows the scene well. Leya will escort you on shopping trips around town to all the top name TV specialty boutiques and venues. She lives near the Queen Mary Show Lounge and will see that you have a safe, enjoyable evening or weekend. She is honest, and sincere, and well known. I will vouch for her good reputation. She will work with you to help you realize your dreams and fantasies. She will work out a schedule that suits you and bill you accordingly. Call Leya at (818) 508-0496 and tell her you read about her "Big Time Sister" service in my column. I also want to add that Leya will be up front and honest with you. She will ask you to send her a deposit to cover her expenses. Say she makes an appointment with Val Driscoll from "Hair To Wear Wigs" or Jim Bridges. Leya books your time and then if you fail to show, Val or Jim loses a client. Loses time he could have booked on a dependable person. Yes, sometimes things happen and we do have to cancel a night out or a fun weekend. For the most part, I feel that if you are honest and sincere when you ask Leya to schedule time for you then there should be no problem with you sending her a deposit. Do remember that the weekends that I do my parties in the Back Bar are the most popular for ladies new to the scene.

I'd like to introduce you to a few of the crossdressing groups we have in California. ETVC is based in San Francisco and I have heard nothing but good things about this organization. ETVC is presently serving the educational and social needs of transvestites, transsexuals, their spouses, family, and friends. They sponsor monthly and couples socials and offer other significant support. A club library with gender information available and a bi-monthly newsletter to keep the group informed. Card parties and committee meetings and a lot more at ETVC. The group is not sexually oriented and has an open membership policy. They have over 400 members and if you are interested write to: ETVC, P.O. Box 6486, San Francisco, CA 94101.

You are invited to the next meeting of Neutral Corner which is based way down south in San Diego. The group meets the fourth Saturday of the month (except for the 3rd Saturday's in November and December) at the Kings Inn, 1333 Hotel Circle South in the Mission Valley area of San Diego, in Lancer's Court. A key for the groups changing room is available after 7:00 p.m. for those who need to change at the hotel. You are encouraged to take advantage of this room. Once again, I hear good things about the group from members I met at Executive Suite dances. For further information please write them at P.O. Box 12581, San Diego, CA 92112 or call (619) 685-3696.

Androgyny is a social and support group for those exploring gender identity. The group provides friendship and understanding in a safe, supportive environment. A place to explore being a crossdresser, transsexual, or a transgenderist. A place to meet others like yourself! Meetings: Tuesday nights from 8:00 p.m. until 9:30 p.m. in Santa Monica, California. Wednesday nights with same time schedule in Riverside, California. You can write for information to: Androgyny, P.O. Box 480740, L.A. CA 90048. Or one can call them at (213) 467-8317 and ask for Shirley or Sheila or call (909) 360-5584 and ask for Paula. Please mention that your call is concerning Androgyny. Call between 9:00 a.m. and 9:00 p.m.

It was a dream come true and I still have lovely and happy memories from walking down Main Street, U.S.A. Two years ago Odyssey Presents Group and Disneyland invited the transgendered community to the first "Private Party" affair. I am proud that I was one of the first men to walk down this prestigious walkway "en-femme"... A special treat to have my photo taken with Mickey and Snow White. Disneyland they say is for children, but you and I know better. Keep in mind we are fortunate as crossdressers, because we choose to realize and live out our fantasies. Disneyland is the perfect place for an evening out "en-femme." I speak from experience and encourage you to attend this event. It is important at this time that we as a community make ourselves visible. Time to come out a little more and can you imagine riding through the wet, wonderful, and oh so entertaining "It's A Small, Small World." Check this ride out as it has been a favorite of mine since I was twelve years old. Gonna beat you with it again and this time I want you to get the calendar and circle Friday Dec 15. Time is 8:00 p.m. to 1:00 a.m. and you can call (818) 893-2777 for information. Tickets are $32.00 presale with parking and $37.00 on the night of the event. Unless something unforeseen comes up, I will be attending and lets all meet at the Christmas Tree at 10:00 p.m. for some photo fun. O.K. now call Odyssey and order those tickets. See you there.

Happy Holidays,
Marlayna

PS. Since Christmas is here now is the time to order a special gift for the lady that is you. What else, but a subscription to TV EPIC.

Dealing with Coming Out

by Marlayna Lacie

Let's say that you had your first impulse or experience related to cross-dressing at say between the ages of six and eight years old. Maybe you experimented with it once or twice in your early or mid twenties but things did not click. Possibly the marriage did not work out and you may have disclosed your interests to her at some point. Most likely the crossdressing issue was just one of the reasons for the split, but to you it was a major thing. You now find yourself in your mid to late thirties and you are walking around looking at women wearing nice outfits and wanting to be wearing one yourself. Needless to say emotionally you are reeling and looking for a way to see a clear passage through this minefield of unhappiness and indecision. There comes a time in life when decisions have to be made to find the happiness that money can not buy. We read so often about the movie star who has the best role in a major network. Has it all and then quits to do his own stage play in a small theater that he bought. We wonder how can a person with all the money and success chuck it all for something that seems to defy logic. Hey pal, you go the three bedroom house, the rolls and a couple of trendy white Broncos, the vacation home in Puerto Vallarta, and you write it off. Leaving tinseltown and all the good things! Money and the townhouse are nice, but if you want to look past that one sees more. There comes a time when one has to look back and take a look at it all. It is then that the decisions you made all along loom large on the horizon.

For me it was very easy to write a letter to a woman who specialized in transforming men into sexy women. I knew that if I did not do this that the day would come when I would have to look back and deal with those things. For me it was not easy and it took years of soul searching and struggling with the issue that refused to go away. Funny, but I never did that. I'm gonna burn my bra and purge this demon type thing that many men go through. Many times I sat and wondered, but I knew that if it was put to me again I would I would make the same decisions. The only thing is that I would find me a Jim Bridges ASAP. This adventure that we call coming out is a hell of a lot more than hitting a motel room and a cab to the Back Bar. An inward emotional and spiritual journey. Only we men who crossdress can understand or relate to the exhilarating ride and the roller coaster come downs, that comes with the territory. I decided that possibly my experiences and insight could help others like myself. I felt that if I wrote a two page article and only two sentences clicked with you then it was worth it. I am so pleased that so many of you have responded with such favorable comments and kind words about this column. We are all in this together and it is very rewarding to me to hear that a positive comes from my efforts. I wish you all a happy holiday season and should you need help with something then do write. I will be more than pleased to do what I can because I can relate so well. You see every night and day I, like you, find myself dealing with coming out.

It is amazing and fascinating to me the power and impact one single word can have. Let's take the word issues and play with it. You and I as transgendered people have to face many situations that most people will never even think about. We can start at a number of places and a good one is the police and being pulled over. This rates as one of the number one heart skipping breath takers that we think about. In California it is not against the law to drive and be out in public "en-femme." I have to add that if you are arrested all dolled up while committing a crime you get double or triple time in the slammer. A few of my friends have been stopped and have had no negative things to say. The officers looked at their identification and addressed them as "Mister So and So." Stay calm and always have a Drag Bag with a change of clothes and towel/make-up remover with you.

Another issue is the sometimes uncomfortable ordeal of leaving the house or apartment. The neighbors and their children are always there and for many this is a pain in the falsies! There is no set answer for this one as we all have to find a comfortable way to confront this issue. Some men can afford to walk out the front door and feel fine. They are in a situation that allows them this freedom. For a few years I waited until dark and walked quietly out the back door. I soon found as I sat down one night to write a piece for my "Dealing With Coming Out" column that I realized that I could no longer hide as I was learning and growing. Allowing myself the space and room so I could make these important decisions. You like me sit down after a night in those leather lovelies and doesn't the price of it all weigh on you for a second? A fleeting one and then comes that glow inside. We are special and as the transgendered only we know the neighbors have watching eyes. Let's see if we can look at the issues that the transgendered and the gay community are dealing with.

Most, and I write most and not all gay men do not care for Drag and I will tell you my opinion why. Gay men are attracted to young men on the beach in swimming trunks, men in uniforms, and sometimes even S & M leather fashions for men. Gay men are attracted to the male image. Think about that!! I had a gay friend say to me, "I don't understand you, your a damn good-looking man, why do you dress up as a woman?" He was not attracted to women and the idea of a man making himself look like a woman was not appealing to him. Talk to a gay man about this sometime and see what they have to say about this. It is important to remember that we have many words and slogans that have changed the world. Think about this for a second as I feel there is an important message enclosed. In the sixties the African American community down in many Southern states said, "We ain't sitting in the back of the bus no more!" After the Viet Nam War and Women's Liberation, the Gays decided to get up from the back and vote. Today we have a number of public officials who are openly gay. We do not have any men in office who put on public record any interest in women's clothes. Other than answering the wife the typical. How do I look honey? He will admit to that and no more.

Well along time ago I decided that I would not discuss politics as that word puts on the red light to many. I do feel that the word is one of the great black holes in the nebulous definitions that can be applied to it. Politics to me are basically the very important issues that we all have to deal with. Family politics and politics on the job and politics of dealing with walking out your front door in a dress and heels. Oh I am sorry as I got off track and wanted to write about a few of the issues we who make up the transgendered community have to deal with.

I'M SASHA, A sexy, friendly, ultra feminine TV, great personality/attitude. I'd like meet you if you are a man 35-60 yr, intelligent/considerate, and who likes to have fun. ariety is the spice of life and when I had my vision and put together a focus for these articles I had no problem. I would let the adventure take me where it naturally would. Sort of like paddling down a river and then just letting the slow and peaceful current take me to places new and exciting. I decided to cover a lot of territory just like the river. Cutting a path and leaving yet leaving it's mark and memory. I usually venture out to find new things to write about and enjoy, but recently this has been changing. Last week I received a preview copy of a tv bondage video presented by B & D Pleasures. The name of this fun little package is called "Transformed" and it features world renown Jennifer Antone along with Gema Talons and tv slave Michael Keye. For years Ms. Antone has been involved in the B & D/S & M scene nationally and internationally. Her skill and expertise is given a fine forum. She literally has been biting at the bits for the opportunity to create and produce top quality, stimulating, enjoyable fem-dom/tv videos. Usually in these videos something is missing, but Ms. Antone with her attention to detail and drama connects on all levels. The plot is the bottom line and this one has a solid base.

Jennifer and Gema are good friends who share a sensual passion for B & D excitement and an apartment with a dungeon. While they are playing a sinister plot is unfolding. Unaware that a burglar has been watching them (in session) and planning a robbery. Michael posing as the unscrupulous telephone repairman gets caught rifling Gema's purse. Resourceful Gema catches him in the act and knocks him out. Michael awakes to find himself gagged, hooded, and restrained for a total body shave! He is then dressed up in heels, hose, and a nice slutty black skirt and wig. The Mistresses then tie him down and treat him to a heavy flogging with cock and ball torment. Plenty of great action and camera work. The dialogue works and the chemistry between all is electric. Mistress Gema gets sassy with Jennifer so her attitude is rewarded with a whipping and she is made to worship "Blackie." That is a special treat for her, and us, and the turnabout ending makes this one a Ten High Heel Treat. A great gift for yourself or that special friend that loves to get all dolled up and submit to sexy dominant women. It seems that Ms. Antone has found her niche and I look forward to more of her videos featuring naughty transvestites who need training and special attention.

Today I was contacted by the Jerry Springer Show and they were looking for TV's or TS's that had some special secret. Mentioned in the note was that a couple where the wife did not know about the husband's crossdressing was wanted. Mr. Springer's show is one of many that started off doing a fairly good job covering people and their situations and private life trauma. I recall a few years back when the show featured a wedding in our own local gender community. I saw most of the show and I did not feel uncomfortable about the format and how the folks at the Springer Show worked with members of the gender community. Recently the show seems to have moved away from this soft format to one which uses a number of well known traps and tricks to get not only the audience excited.

The show I wrote about in my last column was a crowd screamer right from the start. Doing a behind the back thing like setting up a gender-bender "dating game" with a focus of the "skit" being the issue of deception. I do not feel that this exploitative, manipulative presentation does anything positive. Gender education has been a major issue in my life and many of the talk shows that focus on and have members of our community on trash us. I recall that I was thrilled about four years ago when I got the invite from the folks who do the Geraldo Rivera Show. I was considering it and called dear friend Tasha La Blush for some words of wisdom. Tasha pointed out real fast that Geraldo who was riding high at the time was destroying people on stage and why would he stop when transvestites were on the show. I decided then that I would never become fodder for the machine as this is what I feel one can be should you go on a talk show. Ask the producer of the show what the format is and if there are any "surprises" that will be used on the show. Say for instance that you were unfortunate enough to lose a wife and two or three girlfriends because your crossdressing was too much. Your onstage with the kleig lights hitting you and the audience is looking at you like your, well you get the point. Then the show's host or hostess informs you and a few other victims, excuse me ladies, that all your ex wives or girlfriends are there to talk about it!!! Yes this is a pretend hypothetical situation, but I feel this vignette is exactly in the same vein that the ones used everynight are.

The major movie studios have shown a hell of a lot more sensitivity to us men who walk in heels and many have given us some positive PR that is well needed. I ask you to watch for these talk shows that feature programs about transvestites and transsexuals. You watch a few and then make your own opinion about this. I would also like to hear from you ladies out there who have stories or articles from your local publications that you feel is important. I will surely include anything that is important and you have access to lots of information that I do not. I always like to talk to other writers to get their point of view. I get what I call a "creative mix" of ideas to work with. This along with finding books and magazines give me a good foundation to form my opinions.

I have not seen the new movie "To Wong Foo, Thanks for Everything Julie Newmar." I do know that I love the catchy name and was thrilled when I heard that three macho male actors were portraying the lead characters. It has been months since I heard about the film as it was originally scheduled for spring release. The soundtrack needed work and other post production areas needed touching up. The film will be released in four days and the premiere is in New York City. I have called around and there does not seem to be a lot of publicity being generated for this movie. The powers that be could have booked the "Director's Guild Building" or even worked a deal with some upscale eatery. Would have been nice to have a few "Julie Newmar" parties.

Did you ever hear of the term called "blackface?" It was a popular art form if one could call it that in the twenties and thirties. White actors would dress like and impersonate black characters. Bear with as I am writing my words slowly as I do not want to offend anyone. The actors used charcoal and black greasepaint to darken their faces. Many were and still are uncomfortable with those images and with good reason. It is true that imitation is the greatest form of flattery. There is also the space that these situations work into be considered. One can impersonate and imitate and the whole circumstance is complimentary and a positive. On that same stage shall we say there is also room for ridicule and humor at someone or some groups expense. Amazing they say in comedy that everything is fair game. Yet, there is everyone having a basic feeling that it should not be directed at me. The men who portray the central characters in the new "drag on the road" movie are doing what we call "Dragface." They are straight men portraying gay "Drag Queens." Thank you very much Patrick and gang, and am I prejudging the movie? Yes I am! I have seen all of the promotional material and the trailers. I have seen enough to know that the actors worked real hard.

I have to remind myself that "Piscilla, Queen of the Desert" was a story that could have come from some Aussie queens diary. "TWF" is being presented as fantasy and our concept of reality leaves when we sit down and the movie starts. Fantasy land and three men driving across the country in a pink "tuna boat" makes me think we have come a long way from Kansas, haven't we Toto? I am sure the movie is entertaining on many levels, but ask yourself this. Is this movie being presented to entertain middle class America and mainstream audiences? Yes, it is, and this opens up great expanses of terror to me.

I am part of and write for the Transgendered Community. If you are new to this publication or lifestyle I will fill you in now. My point of view comes from a man who crossdresses. I see things from the view that a pair of sexy heels gives and write from that experience. I am super and even over sensitive when it comes to the movie industry and my community. I read and learn all I can about show business and the rich history that Drag has in it. Unfortunately there are too many movies that have trashed us. Humor and laughs at the expense of the Gay and Transgendered community. You can bet your best pair of Donna Karen pantyhose that the movie will have the audiences laughing. Once again I wait for the evening I sit down to watch this movie. Then my question will be answered. I am wondering once again if the audience will be laughing with us or at us.

Orgasm...can one be sure one is actually experiencing orgasm? Or is it only involuntary pelvic contractions? Do your orgasm consume you in the flames of passion or drown you in throes of pleasure and ecstasy?

Orgasm. A very intimate subject. Remember we promised to delve into intimate subjects of mutual interest in the first column? So, sweetie dahlink, I wouldn't go near a major post orgasmic glow without a glorious Zoobaleezoo!

Yes, all you girl happy ones out there, the ultimate orgasms of personal experience are named Zoobaleezos! You sort of get taken out of yourself. (Maybe you call it a royale with cheese.) Of course I don't even know it's a Zoobaleezoo until I'm zooming along the fringes of post orgasmic glow and only know I'm doing tight little pirouettes somewhere on the surface of planet Femmina. Slightly bent false eyelashes, not withstanding.

Orgasms are definitely fun to think about. Funner to have. What's better than strapping on a pair of virtual reality goggles? A zoomin' Zoobaleezoo! Problem is, they're kinda addictive. Of course we all know about addictive, compulsive sexual behavior, don't we dolls? Ha!

Girls, girls, girls... here's a little transgender trivia for you. Scholars that trace words can go back into Middle English far enough to find that "girl" once meant a child of either sex. Wonder when the word "boy" started to stick out? Hang around the drag scene long enough, the word girl can get very confusing...not to mention the sex!

Guess it depends on who's wearing the Vivienne Westwood bustle.

As promised last time, my wicked kinky cousin Tunni Sexx, has returned to give you the dirt on a pervy London fetish party. Here she is:

"Hello Sex Addicts!" On a recent sojourn to London we happened to drop in on the Madame Venus party held in a pub near the Great Portland Tube Station. A few skant steps from the White House Hotel where we were staying. The English are really into their RUBBER in capital letters. Very strict dress code is enforced. So what's a girl to wear? That kinky, pervy power-packed material, rubber, what else?

It was very cool and wet outside but as you descend down from the street into the pub it got hotter and hotter. One latex clad Mistress had her slave's head on a leash and buried up the back of her short skirt. She was nonchalantly talking, drinking, and smoking. Liquid muffled sounds came from her slave. Everybody seems to be puffing away or lighting up. Think it must be an oral gratification thing.

The ever lovely and daunting Mistress Dom-Unique was showing me around. Half expected to run into Edina Monsoon sitting in an isolation tank wearing a rubber wet suit. Put one on, and you'll know why it's called a wet suit!

Met quite a few TV's. Everyone was very friendly in a hands all over your ass and a tongue in your mouth sort of way. This side of the pond people are more liberal which is fine with me! After a short while you're drinking, smoking, snorting, and cursing (and sweating) right along with the rest of the rubber rowdies. As the night wears on, the gongs from Big Ben seem to get louder. Or was that a spanking?

There was much play. Some familiar and some different. We had Pony Girls all dressed with tails and Pony Men wearing saddles and giving their Mistress a ride around the dance floor. Ride'em cowgirl. Careful with those spurs you hell bent for latex bitches!

Wouldn't want to get Tasha's panties in a wad (again), so I must turn the column back over to her. I strongly recommend London, especially Madame JoJo's, a lavish drag club located in the heart of London and Soho...but that's another story!..."

Thank you Tunni, dear. You always were sort of a battery-operated toy girl. Still hanging with your panty hose running friend, Moronica?

I also made the scene at Madame JoJo's. A really fine drag club and piano bar. Our American equivalent would be the famous Queen Mary.

Finally, you know you really can learn from television. Caught a late cable show talking about the four-hour orgasm. Seems to me you'd have to have some sort of energy suppository for that. Four hours of Zoobaleezos and a suppository...oh my!

Love, Sin & English Gin!

I have been very fortunate in life that I have a job that allows me to travel around the world and I have been able to meet transgendered people and professionals from all parts of the world.

Late in January, I was told that I was being scheduled for a business trip to Thailand for three weeks so I made some calls and found some contacts that I could possibly see while I was in Thailand.

I left L.A. on the third of February and flew ten hours into Japan and had a one hour lay over then on to Singapore which was another seven and a half hour flight. In Singapore there was a four hour lay over and then a three hour flight in to Bangkok, Thailand. Because of the time change it was Sunday morning at 11:30 a.m. When I got in I called one of the contacts I had received and they came over to the hotel and took me out to lunch. That afternoon they took me around to see some of the sights and that night we went out to some of the bars to meet some of her friends. None of them spoke a lot of English but they could speak enough to get by, so we became good friends. She took me out shopping several nights to look for silk and gold. I finally found six yards of royal blue silk and some gold jewelry that I liked. We went out to party on the weekend but I was warned to be careful as Thailand has a serious Aids Problem. So I was really careful. Thailand was a beautiful place to see but in Bangkok I had a serious traffic problem. It made me feel good about some of the traffic jams that we have in L.A.

We took care of some of the meetings we needed to take care of, so I was asked if I could contact company in Singapore to see if they could assist us in the job that we were doing. So I caught a flight to Singapore and arrived on Friday afternoon. I has some good friends there and they met me at the airport and took me to my hotel and out to dinner. At dinner they explained that Singapore had some very serious laws and that if you get caught breaking them you can be seriously punished. Drugs is the worst. If you get caught dealing drugs, the punishment is death; hanging. You don't go to court or jail, they hang you right away. Just for having a small amount of drugs, you will go to jail for 20 years. If you litter, they put you on a work crew to clean up the city for a period of time. It's best to obey laws when you're in Singapore and some of the other countries in the area.

Over the weekend, I was able to get out and do a little shopping and was taken out to a number of restaurants and bars that are very open to the transgendered community. In the past there have been some problems but I was told things had settled down.

Singapore was really a beautiful place to visit. It's really a clean city and was a lot of fun to go shopping and get some good buys and to be able to go out and party with friends along with meeting a number of new friends.

It's good to be able to contact friends and have them show you around and keep you out of trouble. It was a long trip home, we made a stop in Taipei and they had everybody get off the plane and they searched all the carry-on bags. When they went through one of my old bags, they found some lingerie but they didn't say anything. We got back on the plane and flew back into L.A., it took eleven hours. I was glad to get home but it took me nearly a week to get over the jet lag, but finally I got back to normal.

Having a chance to travel to places like Thailand and Singapore is really a good experience. You get a chance to see how people in other parts of the world live and you realize that there are people in other parts of the world who are transgendered. I had heard about a movie called the "Mystics of Thailand" that talked about the doctor in Thailand and showed actual pictures of him performing SRS surgery on a male to female transsexual. I knew quite a few people who had their surgery there but I wasn't able to get a good phone number so I could call and arrange a meeting and I didn't have enough time during the day to check out the address that was given.

I feel very fortunate that I am able to travel and see the things I have seen over the years and be able to come back and be able to share them with my friends and readers of TV Epic. They say they were glad that I took time to share some of my experiences, it helped them to realize they weren't alone out there. That there are people all over the world who experience the same things we do and are dealing with it every day of their lives.

A lot of people write and tell me how much they envy me being able to travel all over the world. It is nice but it has its draw backs, especially if you are married and have a family. It can be really hard on the body because you get home and then your going somewhere else.

I really do appreciate all the comments and questions that I have received from the readers and if you have a question or comment I hope you will write and let me know. I'll get back to you with answer.

introducing

personal Stationery

We know how frustrating it can be to lose a picture by sending it to an irresponsible person or couple who neglect to return it. That's why Pathway Communications is now offering a special service for our readers which will safeguard your pictures from loss, and it's as easy as 1, 2, 3!

Here's how it works:

You mail us your picture(s) along with the attached order form, making sure to select the stationery and paper style you want. Remember: send high quality photos that are in focus and have good contrast and tone. The better your picture, the better your stationery.

Then we mail back your original picture(s) and stationery, with a complete black and white reproduction of your picture(s) on each and every one, along with any requested text information (such as a greeting, P.O. Box and/or a phone number). That's all there is to it!

Girls," like Sheena.

This evening was a special one as internationally known adult video producer, director, and performer Karen Dior was my special guest. Fetish fans traveled in from all over Southern California to cavort their finest fetish fashions and gear. Many came to see Karen and were not disappointed.

I try not to ask many favors from owner/manager Robert, but I made an exception. My request was to have Karen perform as a "guest" as part of the second show in the Front Room Show Lounge. Miss Dior performed a song called "I Am Your Mistress" and she got a standing ovation from a packed house.

Next year we will have a theme for every fetish party. So next month on January 27th the theme will be "Leather, Feathers, & Fur." See you there.

THIS MONTH'S OTSN PARTY IS ON THE 9TH

Local actress/model CECE was Marlayna's "special guest"

Richard said that it was going to get busy later on. Hell, the place was packed and this was at ten thirty. This cute little Oriental, or do we say Asian these days? Well the girls were to die for, as they say, and I would love to look that good. Envious is Miss Ann you say. Oh no girl! I am totally one hundred percent jealous. I mean how this little thing fit into the black PVC fetish thing was beyond me. Maybe she sucked in her breath. Well these girls were hot to trot and I saw Marlayna take a picture of them.

Tasha La Blush was there and we chatted with Robert who is the owner/manager of the club. He offered to take a photo of me and the girls in the show. I declined and asked for a rain check. I want to buy a new dress and see about having Jim Bridges do a make-over on me.

I spent some time taking in the action and I want to know, who was that little blonde girl in the heavy-metal "Go-Go" getup? I then spied two women kissing in the corner. I think one was the wife, but I was not sure which one. I also saw a six foot three dominatrix in a red leather mini skirt with matching thigh high red leather patent boots. I then retreated to the corner. Well the party was fun and I am becoming more comfortable. I like making these new friends and I think I like writing too.
